Blair, 2018-12-20 Technofeminist Storiographies Women Information Technology and Cultural Representation analyzes both historical and contemporary accounts of women's lived experiences of technology from Ada Lovelace and Hedy Lamarr to women working across the tech industry today and juxtaposes them with larger cultural representations of women and technology The book explores both the relationship between gender and technology and the cultural contexts that enable and constrain that relationship questions that call for opportunities for women to share their lived experiences and to have such experiences represented across media genres

Despite the rich complex stories and histories women have with technology as programmers inventors and workers media throughout history including film television games toys children s books and biographies often inadequately and inaccurately represent them Throughout the book Kristine Blair chronicles the portrayal of the relationship between women and information technology across these media genres Inevitably the societal conditions that surround technology use including portrayal through popular media impact the extent to which women and girls gain and maintain access within those cultural contexts This book calls for a more visible history of women s technological achievements in which their stories are heard for generations to come rather than be forgotten and unknown Issues in Teaching Using ICT Marilyn Leask,2012-12-06

Written for student teachers learning to teach in primary and secondary schools and newly qualified teachers this book has been designed to engage with a wide range of issues related to ICT teaching It presents key debates that teachers will need to understand reflect on and engage in as part of their professional development Chapters highlight major questions consider the evidence from theory and practice and arrive at possible answers Building on their learning about teaching using ICT on ITT courses this book will encourage students and newly qualified teachers to consider and reflect on issues so that they can make reasoned and informed judgements about their teaching Issues discussed include the background to developments in the UK the globalisation of teachers using technology the role of the teacher teacherless classrooms a whole school approach to using ICT creativity visual literacy and ICT school websites and opportunities for lifelong learning in the community
