Water and Power Mart A. Stewart,Peter A. Coclanis,2018-12-12 This book brings together a talented international group of scholars policy practitioners and NGO professionals that explores a range of issues relating to environmental developmental and governing challenges on the Mekong one of the world's greatest rivers and alas one of the most endangered The book is divided into three sections devoted in turn to historical perspectives on the Lower Mekong Basin Issues relate to livelihood strategies

environmental threats and adaptation strategies and various aspects of river governance with individual authors treating questions of governance at different levels of refraction and in different registers The result is a fresh and innovative collection of essays which taken together provide much needed new perspectives on some of the most important and seemingly intractable environmental and development issues in contemporary Asia The Exoplanet Handbook Michael Perryman, 2018-08-30 With the discovery of planets beyond our solar system 25 years ago exoplanet research has expanded dramatically with new state of the art ground based and space based missions dedicated to their discovery and characterisation With more than 3 500 exoplanets now known the complexity of the discovery techniques observations and physical characterisation have grown exponentially This Handbook ties all these avenues of research together across a broad range of exoplanet science Planet formation exoplanet interiors and atmospheres and habitability are discussed providing in depth coverage of our knowledge to date Comprehensively updated from the first edition it includes instrumental and observational developments in depth treatment of the new Kepler mission results and hot Jupiter atmospheric studies and major updates on models of exoplanet formation With extensive references to the research literature and appendices covering all individual exoplanet discoveries it is a valuable reference to this exciting field for both incoming and established researchers Modeling Individual Differences in Perceptual Decision Making Joseph W. Houpt, Cheng-Ta Yang, James T. Townsend, 2017-01-18 To deal with the abundant amount of information in the environment in order to achieve our goals human beings adopt a strategy to accumulate some information and filter out other information to ultimately make decisions Since the development of cognitive science in the 1960s researchers have been interested in understanding how human beings process and accumulate information for decision making Researchers have conducted extensive behavioral studies and applied a wide range of modeling tools to study human behavior in simple detection tasks and two choice decision tasks e g discrimination classification In general researchers often assume that the manner in which information is processed for decision making is invariant across individuals given a particular experimental context Independent variables including speed accuracy instructions stimulus properties i e intensity and characteristics of the participants i e aging cognitive ability are assumed to affect the parameters in a model i e speed of information accumulation response bias but not the way that participants process information e g the order of information processing Given these assumptions much modeling has been accomplished based on the grouped data rather than the individual data However a growing number of studies have demonstrated that there were individual differences in the perceptual decision process In the same task context different groups of the participants may process information in different manners The capacity and architecture of the decision mechanism were found to vary across individuals implying that humans decision strategies can vary depending on the context to maximize their performance In this special issue we focused on a particular subset of cognitive models particularly accumulator models multinomial processing trees and systems factorial technology SFT as applied to perceptual decision making The motivation for the focus on perceptual decision making is threefold Empirical studies of perception have grown out of a history of making a large number of observations for each individual so as to achieve precise estimates of each individual s performance This type of data rather than a small number of observations per individual is most amenable to achieving precision in individual level and group level cognitive modeling Second the interaction between the acquisition of perceptual information and the decisions based on that information to the extent that those processes are distinguishable offers rich data for scientific exploration Finally there is an increasing interest in the practical application of individual variation in perceptual ability whether to inform perceptual training and expertise or to guide personnel decisions Although these practical applications are beyond the scope of this issue we hope that the research presented herein may serve as the foundation for future endeavors in that domain

The Informal Economy in Global Perspective Abel Polese, Colin C. Williams, Ioana A. Horodnic, Predrag Bejakovic, 2017-04-18 This book critically engages with how formal and informal mechanisms of governance are used across the world Specifically it analyzes how the governance mechanisms of formal institutions are questioned challenged and renegotiated through informal institutions Whilst there is an emerging body of scholarship focusing on informal practices this is scattered across a number of disciplines This edited collection by contrast fosters a dialogue on these issues moving away from monodisciplinary and normative methodologies that view informal institutions and practices simply as temporary economic phenomena In doing so the authors provide a wider understanding of how governance is composed of both the formal and the informal which complement each other but are also constantly in competition This novel approach will appeal to social scientists economists policy makers practitioners and anyone else willing to widen their understanding of how governance works

Context-Aware Systems and Applications, and Nature of Computation and Communication Phan Cong Vinh, Abdur Rakib, 2021-01-12 This book constitutes the refereed post conference proceedings of the International Conferences ICCASA and ICTCC 2020 held in November 2020 in Thai Nguyen Vietnam The 27 revised full papers presented were carefully selected from 68 submissions The papers of ICCASA cover a wide spectrum in the area of context aware systems CAS is characterized by its self facets such as self organization self configuration self healing self optimization self protection used to dynamically control computing and networking functions The papers of ICTCC cover formal methods for self adaptive systems and discuss natural approaches and techniques for computation and communication

Policing and Mental Health John McDaniel, Kate Moss, Ken Pease, 2020-02-25 This book explores the relationship between policing and mental health Police services around the world are innovating at pace in order to develop solutions to the problems presented and popular models are being shared internationally Nevertheless disparities and perceptions of unfairness remain commonplace Innovations remain poorly funded and largely unproven Drawing together the insights of eminent academics in the UK the US Australia and South Africa the edited collection evaluates the condition of mental health and policing as an interlocked policy area uncovering and addressing a number of key issues which are shaping police responses to mental health Due to a relative lack of academic texts pertaining to developments in England and Wales the volume contains a distinct section on relevant policies and practices It also includes sections on US and Australian approaches focusing on Crisis Intervention Teams CITs Mental Health Intervention Teams MHITs stressors and innovations from Boston in the US to Queensland in Australia Written in a clear and direct style this book will appeal to students and scholars in policing criminology sociology mental health cultural studies social theory and those interested in learning about the condition and trajectory of police responses to mental health Geopolitical Risks in Financial Reporting and Transfer Pricing Anatol Melega, 2025-03-04 This book explores the impact of geopolitical changes on financial reporting transfer pricing and foreign investment flows It focuses on how geopolitical instability affects companies in emerging and developing economies highlighting shifts in international reporting and risk management The main objectives are to analyze transformations in the internationalization of business assess the impact of accounting information on investment attraction and evaluate tax policies In the context of a changing geopolitical environment and the rise of economic multipolarity particularly with a focus on BRICS economies the book addresses the strategic adaptations needed in financial reporting and compliance Offering an in depth perspective on the complexity and interconnectedness of today's risks this book is an essential guide for scholars and financial professionals navigating the global economic landscape

Conn's Current Therapy 2019 Rick D. Kellerman, David Rakel, 2018-12-06 Follows a consistent easy to use format throughout with diagnosis therapy drug protocols and treatment pearls presented in quick reference boxes and tables for point of care answers to common clinical questions Features significantly revised chapters on sepsis bacterial pneumonia ADHD endometriosis atrial fibrillation congestive heart failure pericarditis diabetes mellitus measles myasthenia gravis irritable bowel syndrome Parkinson's disease seizures and epilepsy in adolescents and adults acute bronchitis and other viral respiratory illnesses urinary incontinence neutropenia venous thromboembolism fungal diseases of the skin diseases of the nails and more Includes all new chapters on fatty liver pancreatic cancer and more Includes nearly 300 images including algorithms anatomical illustrations and photographs that provide useful information for diagnosis Provides current drug information thoroughly reviewed by PharmDs Shares the knowledge and expertise of 40 new authors who provide a fresh perspective in their specialties Emerging Infectious Diseases, 2017-07 Racial Nationalisms Sivamohan Valluvan, Virinder S. Kalra, 2020-12-17 This book addresses the centrality of race and racism in consolidating the nationalisms currently prominent in Brexit Britain Particular attention is given to the issues of refugees borders and bordering and the wider forms of nativist and anti Muslim sentiments that anchor today's increasingly populist forms of nationalist politics It is argued that the forms of scapegoating and alarmism integral to the revival of nationalism in British politics are fundamentally tied to racialised processes Equally however it is argued that such a political climate is not simply discursive but also yields acute forms of governance wherein an increasingly violent attention is given by the state to the border The chapters in the book do however also attempt to think through the possibilities of a constructive response to this moment Emphasis is given here to the everyday cultural textures that might help shape a popular opposition to racial nationalism Similarly the book attempts to unpack the appeal of today's distinctive populism in ways that might be more responsive to anti racist and anti nationalist sentiments Racial Nationalisms will be of interest to academics and researchers studying postcolonialism nationalism ethnic and racial studies and to advanced students of sociology political science and public policy

This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Ethnic and Racial Studies The Zoological Record ,1998

The Municipal and Public Services Journal ,1969-11
