To Forget Venice Phoenix Poets:

To Forget Venice Peg Boyers, 2014-10-29 In To Forget Venice Peg Boyers sets for herself and the reader a most improbable challenge Venice is the site of several unforgettable years of her own adolescence and remains the city she returns to year after year It is also a place that is both adored and reviled by the speakers in this various and unconventionally polyphonic book of poems Throughout the book the voices we hear belong not only to imagined characters from literature like the mother of Tazio from Death in Venice or the companion of Vladimir Illych Lenin or the Victorian prophet John Ruskin and his wife Effie but to wall moss sand and most especially a speaker who at the age of thirteen landed in Venice in 1965 and never quite recovered from the formative experiences that shaped her there Ranging over the several stages of a life that features adolescent heartbreak and betrayal marriage and children friendship and loss the book insistently addresses the speaker's desire to get to the bottom of her obsession with a place that has imprinted itself so indelibly on her consciousness Intense and beautifully crafted it is also a book of genuine grandeur where transcendence and self disgust clash to create a human life

Conversing Identities Konstantina Georganta, 2012-01-01 Conversing Identities Encounters Between British Irish and Greek Poetry 1922-1952 presents a panorama of cultures brought in dialogue through travel immigration and translation set against the insularity imposed by war and the hegemony of the national centre in the period 1922-1952 Each chapter tells a story within a specific time and space that connected the challenges and fissures experienced in two cultures with the goal to explore how the post 1922 accentuated mobility across frontiers found an appropriate expression in the work of the poets under consideration Either influenced by their actual travel to Britain or Greece or divided in their various allegiances and reactions to national or imperial sovereignty the poets examined explored the possibilities of a metaphorical diasporic sense of belonging within the multicultural metropolis and created personae to indicate the tension at the contact of the old and the new the hypocritical parody of mixed breeds and the need for modern heroes to avoid national or gendered stereotypes The main coordinates were the national voices of W B Yeats and Kostas Palamas T S Eliot's multilingual outlook as an Anglo American in toikos C P Cavafy's view as a Greek of the diaspora displaced William Plomer's portrayal of 1930s Athens Demetrios Capetanakis journey to the British metropolis John Lehmann's antithetical journey eastward as well as Louis MacNeice's complex loyalties to a national identity and sense of belonging as an Irish classicist translator and traveller

The Athenæum, 1883 Sexuality and Memory in Early Modern England John S. Garrison, Kyle Pivetti, 2015-11-19 This volume brings together two vibrant areas of Renaissance studies today memory and sexuality The contributors show that not only Shakespeare but also a broad range of his contemporaries were deeply interested in how memory and sexuality interact Are erotic experiences heightened or deflated by the presence of memory Can a sexual act be commemorative Can an act of memory be eroticized How do forms of romantic desire underwrite forms of memory To answer such questions these authors examine drama poetry and prose from both major authors and lesser studied figures in the canon of Renaissance literature Alongside a number of insightful readings they show that sonnets enact a sexual exchange of memory that epics of nationhood cannot help but eroticize their subjects that the act of sex in Renaissance tragedy too often depends upon violence of the past Memory these scholars propose re shapes the concerns of queer and sexuality studies including the unhistorical the experience of desire and the limits of the body So too does the erotic revise the dominant trends of memory studies from the rhetoric of the medieval memory arts to the formation of collective pasts The
