DARPA has been responsible for countless inventions and technologies that extend well beyond military technology Sharon Weinberger gives us a riveting account of DARPA's successes and failures its remarkable innovations and its wild eyed schemes We see how the threat of nuclear Armageddon sparked investment in computer networking leading to the Internet as well as to a proposal to power a missile destroying particle beam by draining the Great Lakes We learn how DARPA was responsible during the Vietnam War for both Agent Orange and the development of the world's first armed drones and how after 9 11 the agency sparked a national controversy over surveillance with its data mining research And we see how DARPA's success with self driving cars was followed by disappointing contributions to the Afghanistan and Iraq wars Weinberger has interviewed more than one hundred former Pentagon officials and scientists involved in DARPA's projects many of whom have never spoken publicly about their work with the agency and pored over countless declassified records from archives around the country documents obtained under the Freedom of Information Act and exclusive materials provided by sources The Imagineers of War is a compelling and groundbreaking history in which science technology and politics collide

The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
