

Introduction to Cartography

The background of the slide is a highly detailed and colorful historical map. The map features a grid of latitude and longitude lines. It depicts various geographical features, including mountains, rivers, and coastlines. There are numerous small illustrations of buildings, ships, and other structures scattered across the map. In the top left corner, there is a circular compass rose with a central figure. The overall style is reminiscent of a traditional woodcut or hand-drawn map from the 17th or 18th century.
