Asset Allocation and Market Efficiency Michael Frömmel,2025-03-03 This books builds on Finance 1 Portfolio Theory and Management Both volumes are linked through the asset allocation process While Finance 1 focuses on portfolio theory and strategic asset allocation Finance 2 deals with tactical asset allocation and market efficiency We start by reviewing the asset allocation process market timing and the approach by Black and Litterman Section 2 deals with the predictability of prices including technical analysis and momentum Turning to factors that may cause the predictability if there is any we discuss models from behavioural finance The subsequent section deals with bubbles and herd behaviour before we cover market microstructure and its implications The book s last section deals with price manipulation as a cause for inefficiencies

Market Timing and Moving Averages P. Glabadanidis,2015-07-15 There is a prevailing view among researchers and practitioners that abnormal risk adjusted returns are an anomaly of financial market inefficiency This outlook is misleading since such returns only shed light on the imperfect models commonly used to measure and benchmark investment performance In particular using static asset pricing models to judge the performance of a dynamic investment strategy leads to flawed inferences when predicting market indicators Market Timing and Moving Averages investigates the performance of moving average price indicators as a tactical asset allocation strategy Glabadanidis provides a rationale for analyzing and testing the market timing and predictive power of any indicator based on past average prices and trading volume He argues that certain trading strategies are best implemented as a dynamic asset allocation without selling short in turn achieving the effect of an imperfect at the money protective put option This work contains an empirical analysis of the performance of various versions of trading strategies based on simple moving averages Derivatives , Practical Trend Analysis Michael C.
