The Handbook of Impression Formation Emily Balcetis, Gordon B. Moskowitz, 2022-08-12 Presenting diverse perspectives from eminent scholars and contemporary researchers The Handbook of Impression Formation contextualizes current and future areas of research in the social psychology of impression formation within a rich historic framework Affirming that impression formation is at the core of human experience chapters explore how and why people form snap judgments about others and when those impressions update They examine the processes through which people infer the reasons for the events they encounter allowing people to plan for appropriate behavioral responses to social contexts The research reviewed is informed by the foundational theory of unconscious automatic processes involved in making judgements of other people pioneered by Professor Jim Uleman who contributes a chapter that suggests important new directions and concludes the volume by reflecting on the state of the field more broadly The book explores how certain attributes stimulate categorization examining current issues around implicit bias stereotypes and social media Chapters cover a range of approaches featuring personal narratives presentation of new data and discoveries comprehensive literature reviews and contemplations on where the field must go and what questions require focus for progress to be made calling for even the most advanced scholars to contribute more to the collective investigation of impression formation This fascinating work provides a solid foundation from which all researchers can build a new and unique program of research and arms the reader with the intellectual tools they need to chart new theoretical territory and discover aspects of the human experience we have yet to even wonder about It is essential reading for students and academics in social psychology and the social sciences more broadly

Climate Change Governance in Asia Kuei-Tien Chou, Koichi Hasegawa, Dowan Ku, Shu-Fen Kao, 2020-07-19 Asian countries are among the largest contributors to climate change China India Japan and South Korea are among the top ten largest carbon emitters in the world with South Korea Japan and Taiwan also some of the largest on a per capita basis At the same time many Asian countries notably India Taiwan Japan the Philippines and Thailand are among those most affected by climate change in terms of economic losses attributed to climate related disasters Asia is an extremely diverse region in terms of the political regimes of its constituent countries and of their level of development and the nature of their civil societies As such its countries are producing a wide range of governance approaches to climate change Covering the diversity of climate change governance in Asia this book presents cosmopolitan governance from the perspective of urban and rural communities local and central governments state society relations and international relations In doing so it offers both a valuable overview of individual Asian countries approaches to climate change governance and a series of case studies for finding solutions to climate change challenges
