Index*, 1979 Tourist's guide to the Channel Islands Benjamin Clarke (writer of guide books.), 1879 Australian Television Graeme Turner, 2020-07-28 Media communications and cultural studies form a rapidly growing part of secondary and tertiary education in Australia yet there have been few books dealing specifically with Australian television This is the first wide ranging study of television in Australia and includes a coverage of the cultural and institutional history of Australian television as well as examining a wide range of television programming Prisoner Perfect Match Hey Hey It s Saturday A Country Practice Vietnam and Beyond 2000 are some of the programs described and analysed Issues are raised such as the relationship between children and television the role of the television documentary and the function television serves in constructing communities The contributors to Australian Television Programs Pleasures and Politics include some of the leading researchers in Australian television and cultural studies and their articles employ a wide range of methods from semiotic analyses to cultural histories Despite their dealing with often quite sophisticated problems the chapters are written in an accessible and lively manner This is an important collection which opens out space for more informed and challenging discussions of Australia s television culture its programs its meanings its pleasures and its politics It will be an invaluable text for all tertiary television media studies communications studies Australian studies and cultural studies programs

Time in Television Narrative Melissa Ames, 2012-08 This collection analyzes twenty first century American television programs that rely upon temporal and narrative experimentation These shows play with time slowing it down to unfold the narrative through time retardation and compression They disrupt the chronological flow of time itself using flashbacks and insisting that viewers be able to situate themselves in both the present and the past narrative threads Although temporal play has existed on the small screen prior to the new millennium never before has narrative time been so freely adapted in mainstream television The essayists offer explanations for not only the frequency of time play in contemporary programming but the implications of its sometimes disorienting presence Drawing upon the fields of cultural studies television scholarship and literary studies as well as overarching theories concerning postmodernity and narratology Time in Television Narrative offers some critical suggestions The increasing number of television programs concerned with time may stem from any and all of the following recent scientific approaches to quantum physics and temporality new conceptions of history and posthistory or trends in late capitalistic production and consumption in the new culture of instantaneity or in the recent trauma culture amplified after the September 11 attacks In short these televisual time experiments may very well be an aesthetic response to the climate from which they derive These essays analyze both ends of this continuum and also attend to another crucial variable the television viewer watching this new temporal play

Irwin Allen Television Productions, 1964-1970 Jon Abbott, 2015-06-14 Before establishing himself as the master of disaster with the 1970s films The Poseidon Adventure and The Towering Inferno Irwin Allen created four of television s most exciting and enduring science fiction series Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea Lost in Space The Time Tunnel and Land of the Giants These 1960s series were full of Allen s favorite tricks techniques and characteristic touches and influenced other productions from the original Star Trek forward Every science fiction show owes something to Allen yet none has equaled his series pace excitement or originality This detailed examination and documentation of the premise and origin of the four shows offers an objective evaluation of every episode and demonstrates that when Irwin Allen's television episodes were good they were great and when they were bad they were still terrific fun

ITV Cultures Catherine Johnson, Rob Turnock, 2005-09-16 This exciting book goes to the heart of a creative commercial and public service culture it shows why ITV matters and how it was made to work so well A tremendous contribution Professor Jean Seaton University of Westminster This is a valuable addition to studies of ITV's history and programming Tom O'Malley Professor of Media Studies University of Wales Aberystwyth and Co Editor of Media History Since breaking the BBC's monopoly in 1955 ITV has been at the centre of the British television landscape To coincide with the fiftieth anniversary of the first ITV broadcast this accessible book offers a range of perspectives on the complex and multifaceted history of Britain's first commercial broadcaster The book explores key tensions and conflicts which have influenced the ITV service Chapters focus on particular institutions including London Weekend Television and ITN and programme forms including Who Wants to be a Millionaire Upstairs Downstairs and Trisha The contributors show that ITV has had to tread an uneasy line between public service and commercial imperatives between a pluralistic regional structure and a national network and between popular appeal and quality programming A timeline of key events in the history of ITV is also included ITV Cultures provides a timely intervention in debates on broadcasting and cultural history for academics and researchers and a lively introduction to the history of ITV for students and general readers Contributors Rod Allen City University Jonathan Bignell University of Reading John Ellis Royal Holloway University of London Jackie Harrison University of Sheffield Jamie Medhurst University of Wales Aberystwyth Matt Hills Cardiff University Steve Neale University of Exeter Helen Wheatley University of Reading Sherryl Wilson Bournemouth University
