Ending Ageism, or How Not to Shoot Old People Margaret Morganroth Gullette, 2017-08-23 Winner of the MLA Prize for Independent Scholars and the APA's Florence L. Denmark Award for Contributions to Women and Aging When the term ageism was coined in 1969 many problems of exclusion seemed resolved by government programs like Social Security and Medicare As people live longer lives today's great demotions of older people cut deeper into their self-worth and human relations beyond the reach of law or public policy In Ending Ageism or How Not to Shoot Old People award-winning writer and cultural critic Margaret Morganroth Gullette confronts the offenders the ways people aging past midlife are portrayed in the media by adult offspring the esthetics and politics of representation in photography film and theater and the incitement to commit suicide for those with early signs of dementia In this original and important book Gullette presents evidence of pervasive age-related assaults in contemporary societies and their chronic affects The sudden onset of age-related shaming can occur anywhere the shove in the street the cold shoulder at the party the deaf ear at the meeting the shut out by the personnel office or the obtuseness of a government Turning intimate suffering into public grievances Ending Ageism Or How Not to Shoot Old People effectively and beautifully argues that overcoming ageism is the next imperative social movement of our time About the cover image This elegant dignified figure Leda Machado a Cuban old enough to have seen the Revolution

Political and Military Sociology Neovi M. Karakatsanis, Jonathan Swarts, 2015-11-09 This volume encompasses a wide range of empirical research on a variety of topics that are related by their focus on the importance of attitudes culture and perceptions The significance of public attitudes the impact of cultural norms and the perceptions of military officers and civilians are all analyzed in the seven articles in this latest edition of Political and Military Sociology The first essay asserts that military memoirs should be taken seriously as objects of scholarly analysis Using the Minorities at Risk Dataset the second article examines the effects of globalization on ethnic conflict in 106 countries from 1985 to 2002 The next focuses on Canadian attitudes toward military expenditures following the September 11th terrorist attacks The fourth examines the attitudes of Texans toward recent US wars the draft and military service generally The fifth essay explores the role of the media in promoting democracy and democratic attitudes in southern Africa Using survey data the following article addresses the extent to which higher education promotes more tolerant attitudes among Israeli Jews toward Israeli Arabs The volume concludes with a study of US warrant officers that shows how the rank has evolved over time

Asylum-Seeker and Refugee Protection in Sub-Saharan Africa Cristiano d'Orsi, 2015-08-11 It is not often acknowledged that the great majority of African refugee movement happens within Africa rather than from Africa to the West This book examines the specific characteristics and challenges of the refugee situation in Sub Saharan Africa offering a new and critical vision on the situation of asylum seekers and refugees in the African continent Cristiano d Orsi considers the international regional and domestic legal and institutional frameworks linked to refugee protection in Sub Saharan Africa and explores the contributions African refugee protection has brought to the cause on a global scale Key issues covered in the book include the theory and the practice of non refoulement an analysis of the phenomenon of mass influx the concept of burden sharing and the role of freedom fighters The book goes on to examine the expulsions of refugees and the historical role played by UNHCR in Sub Saharan Africa As a work which follows the persecution and legal challenges of those in search of a safe haven this book will be of great interest and use to researchers and students of immigration and asylum law international law human rights and African studies

Religious Leaders and the Regime in the Second Republic of Zimbabwe Bekithemba Dube, 2023-05-30 Religious Leaders and the Regime in the Second Republic of Zimbabwe looks at the nexus of religion and politics in Zimbabwe Religious leaders and institutes are discussed as either regime enablers resistors or transformers This book focuses on how religion has played a role in thwarting democracy and has acted as a machine to silence dissenting voices repression and poor governance The book addresses religious figures such as Andrew Wutawunashe

Talent Chiwenga Bishop Mutendi and Mapostori In discussing these figures the book highlights how ZANU PF has taken advantage of religious power to thwart democracy while rewarding regime enablers The book also discusses the road to 2023 Zimbabwean elections and highlights the role of the church in creating an enabling and catastrophic environment This book challenges oppressive systems perpetrated by religious leaders and politicians Gender-Based Violence and Femicide in South Africa Tameshnie Deane,2024-06-27 This book presents new perspectives on gender based violence GBV in South Africa It argues that violence against women is a manifestation of unequal gender relations and harmful manifestations of hegemonic masculinity which are governed by patriarchal beliefs institutions and systems It includes chapters on quantitative research that assess not only the levels and determinants of violence against women but also men s attitudes towards gender based violence perceptions of violence the legislative frameworks governing violence against women in South Africa and the current cases and jurisprudence relating to this scourge In spite of its focus on South Africa the book also provides insights for comparative scholars exploring the value of different constitutional articulations of human rights and how they support or fail to support efforts to combat violence against women By assessing recent incidents and responses to gender based violence the book provides a view of not only the societal but also jurisprudential opportunities and pitfalls in this area that may be applicable elsewhere Gender equality and central to this the right of women to live lives free of violence is a precondition for full democratic participation and is a universal goal Accordingly the South African experience contributes to a wider understanding of the possibilities and limitations of societal and legal reform in challenging the ubiquity of violence against women The book is aimed at researchers practitioners students professionals and advocates in the field of gender based violence Towards Democratic Development States in Southern Africa Kanyenze, Godfrey,Jauch, Herbert,2016-12-14 The dawn of the twenty first century heralded an apparent change of fortunes for most sub Saharan African economies with annual growth averaging over 5% for fifteen years However this was not accompanied by structural transformation poverty food insecurity unemployment and inequality persist Structural transformation has not been and indeed cannot be delivered by market forces and neoliberal economic policies it requires a state committed to development and to achieving it in a democratic way To what extent do the countries of Southern Africa exhibit the characteristics of such a developmental state What steps if any do they need to take in order to become one The book answers the questions with respect to South Africa Botswana Namibia Zimbabwe Angola and Malawi Godfrey Kanyenze and his colleagues have assembled a distinguished team of writers to take the temperature of the regional political economy and chart a path for its future development Advances in Farm Animal Genomic Resources Stéphane Joost,Michael W. Bruford,Ino Curik,Juha Kantanen,Johannes A. Lenstra,Johann Sölkner,Göran Andersson,Philippe V. Baret,Nadine Buys,Jutta Roosen,Michèle Tixier-Boichard,Paolo Ajmone Marsan,2016-01-28 The history of livestock started with the domestication of their wild ancestors a restricted number of species allowed to be tamed and entered a symbiotic relationship with humans In exchange for food shelter and protection they provided us with meat eggs hides wool and draught power thus contributing considerably to our economic and cultural development Depending on the species domestication took place in different areas and periods After domestication livestock spread over all inhabited regions of the earth accompanying human migrations and becoming also trade objects This required an adaptation to different climates and varying styles of husbandry and resulted in an enormous phenotypic diversity Approximately 200 years ago the situation started to change with the rise of the concept of breed Animals were selected for the same visible characteristics and crossing with different phenotypes was reduced This resulted in the formation of different breeds mostly genetically isolated from other populations A few decades ago selection pressure was increased again with intensive production focusing on a limited range of types and a subsequent loss of genetic diversity For short term economic reasons farmers have abandoned traditional breeds As a consequence during the 20th century at least 28% of farm animal breeds became extinct rare or endangered The situation is alarming in developing countries where native breeds adapted to local environments and diseases are being replaced by industrial breeds In the most marginal areas farm animals are considered to be essential for viable land use and in the developing world a major pathway out of poverty Historic documentation from the period before the breed formation is scarce Thus reconstruction of the history of livestock populations depends on archaeological archeo zoological and DNA analysis of extant populations Scientific research into genetic diversity takes advantage of the rapid advances in molecular genetics Studies of mitochondrial DNA microsatellite DNA profiling and Y chromosomes have revealed details on the process of domestication on the diversity retained by breeds and on relationships between breeds However we only see a small part of the genetic information and the advent of new technologies is most timely in order to answer many essential questions High throughput single nucleotide polymorphism genotyping is about to be available for all major farm animal species The recent development of sequencing techniques calls for new methods of data management and analysis and for new ideas for the extraction of information To make sense of this information in practical conditions integration of geo environmental and socio economic data are key elements The study and management of farm animal genomic resources FAnGR is indeed a major multidisciplinary issue The goal of the present Research Topic was to collect contributions of high scientific quality relevant to biodiversity management and applying new methods to either new genomic and bioinformatics approaches for characterization of FAnGR to the development of FAnGR conservation methods applied ex situ and in situ to socio economic aspects of FAnGR conservation to transfer of lessons between wildlife and livestock biodiversity conservation and to the contribution of FAnGR to a transition in agriculture FAnGR and agro ecology African Women, ICT and Neoliberal Politics Assata Zerai, 2018-09-28 How can we promote people centered governance in Africa Cell phones information and communications technology ICT are shown to be linked to neoliberal understandings of more democratic governance structures defined by the Worldwide Governance Indicators as the rule of law corruption control regulation quality government effectiveness political stability no violence and voice and accountability However these indicators fall short they do not emphasize gender equity or pro poor policies Writing from an African feminist scholar activist perspective Assata Zerai emphasizes the voices of women in two ways 1 she examines how women's access to ICT makes a difference to the success of people centered governance structures and 2 she demonstrates how African women's scholarship too often marginalized must be used to expand and redefine the goals and indicators of democratic governance in African countries Challenging the status quo that praises the contributions of cell phones to the diffusion of knowledge and resultant better governance in Africa this book is an important read for scholars of politics and technology gender and politics and African Studies
