

“What do you think? Is globalization a positive or negative force in the world today?”

1st - *State your general opinion on the topic

2nd - State a specific reason for your opinion and an example

3rd - Acknowledge the point of view of one of the speaker's in the conversation. Explain why you agree or disagree with reasons and/or examples.

4th - *Summarize the main point of your post.

In my opinion, globalization is a positive force in the world today. My personal belief is that when nations interact together, it leads to less suffering. For example, people who suffer from natural catastrophes can import goods and services to help mitigate their losses and recover quickly. Citizens of nations who may be going through war or famine can flee to neighboring countries for shelter. I understand Alex's concern over cultural homogenization, but I believe she misses another critical point. Much of the food found in grocery stores around the world is imported. Our very diet is due to the international trade partnerships and alliances forged over the last half of the 20th century. International trade and travel are not possible in a world without globalization, which is why I believe it is crucial to maintain our current global policies for a safer world with a higher standard of living. And why would it matter Today's eerily impressive artificial intelligence writing tools present us with a crucial challenge As writers do we unthinkingly adopt AI's time saving advantages or do we stop to weigh what we gain and lose when heeding its siren call To understand how AI is redefining what it means to write and think linguist and educator Naomi S Baron leads us on a journey connecting the dots between human literacy and today's technology From nineteenth century lessons in composition to mathematician Alan Turing's work creating a machine for deciphering war time messages to contemporary engines like ChatGPT Baron gives readers a spirited overview of the emergence of both literacy and AI and a glimpse of their possible future As the technology becomes increasingly sophisticated and fluent it's tempting to take the easy way out and let AI do the work for us Baron cautions that such efficiency isn't always in our interest As AI plies us with suggestions or full blown text we risk losing not just our technical skills but the power of writing as a springboard for personal reflection and unique expression Funny informed and conversational Who Wrote This urges us as individuals and as communities to make conscious choices about the extent to which we collaborate with AI The technology is here to stay Baron shows us how to work with AI and how to spot where it risks diminishing the valuable cognitive and social benefits of being literate

Argumentative Writing in a Second Language Alan R. Hirvela, Diane Belcher, 2021-12-13 Argumentative Writing in a Second Language is a collection on teaching argumentative writing offering multiple vantage points drawn from the contributors own teaching and research experiences The value of learning how to compose argumentative texts cannot be overstated and yet very little attention has been allocated to the equally important topic of how argumentation is or can be taught in the L2 context Thus this volume shifts attention to teachers and argumentative writing instruction especially within increasingly common multimodal and digital literacy settings While doing so it provides a comprehensive wide ranging view of the L2 argumentative writing landscape within an instructional lens Part I of the volume is topic oriented and focuses on explorations of important issues and perspectives while Part II features several chapters reporting classroom based studies of a variety of instructional approaches that expand our understanding of how argumentative writing can be taught The book will be of value to pre service and in service teachers in varying instructional contexts as well as teacher educators and L2 writing scholars researchers
