Designing Mobile Service Systems Els van de Kar, Alexander Verbraeck, 2008 Annotation In this book we describe the design of services from a systems perspective In this systems perspective we explain three elements of the service system that have to be balanced the service concept with the value proposition to the users the organisational network in which stakeholders have to cooperate to develop and deliver the service and the technical architecture that uses information and communication technologies to deliver the content These three main elements of a service system are described in detail and illustrated with examples of services from different domains The elements are integrated into a methodology that describes how to design implement and test mobile service systems The trend is that service systems will become time and place independent and at the same time context dependent Therefore the design of service systems that can be used anytime and anyplace will become common practice Jacket

Friends' Intelligencer, 1871 Help-Our-Planet-Earth (HOPE) Paul Watterworth, 2015-09-01 Robert walked towards the hospital emergency entrance The smell of death was overpowering Many of the cars blocking the ambulance entrance had their lifeless occupants slumped over the steering wheels or their heads propped against the car windows The sliding doors were propped open by more bodies of virus casualties Robert looked deeper into the dark hospital and turned around The hospital was not receiving more patients Jillian stared over the city of Hong Kong from the eighteenth floor of the luxury hotel Although it was the middle of the day the entire city was dead Not a car boat or person was moving The hotel had no water phone or electricity Despair washed over her as she thought of her children She prayed that her two boys survived the virus The problem was that they were a very large ocean away Adapting to the new world was difficult Finding and protecting your family was an even greater challenge
