Welcome to the Whitman College Biology Department's Virtual Pig Dissection (VPD)!

This site is designed as a supplement to laboratory dissections exploring introductory mammalian anatomy and physiology — it is basic and many details have been omitted for clarity. We hope that it is suitable for AP Biology students or for students of introductory anatomy and physiology at the college level.

We have revised this site to improve the learning experience and accessibility. Please see the 'About' page for more details and contact information. We hope you find it useful and enjoy using it!

Virtual Fetal Pig Dissection Answers:

Computer Science Experiments Pam Walker, Elaine Wood, 2010 Presents 20 new tested experiments related to the intriguing field of computer science Most of the experiments utilize Internet based computer research to teach key science concepts The experiments are designed to promote interest in science in and out of the classroom and to improve critical thinking skills Designing Learning for Tablet Classrooms Donovan R. Walling, 2014-02-04 The versatile cost effective technology of the tablet computer has proved to be a good fit with the learning capabilities of today's students Not surprisingly in more and more classrooms the tablet has replaced not only traditional print materials but the desktop computer and the laptop as well Designing Instruction for Tablet Classrooms makes sense of this transition clearly showing not just how and why tablet based learning works but how it is likely to evolve Written for the non technical reader it balances elegant theoretical background with practical applications suitable to learning environments from kindergarten through college A wealth of specialized topics ranges from course management and troubleshooting to creating and customizing e textbooks from tablet use in early and remedial reading to the pros and cons of virtual field trips And for maximum usefulness early chapters are organized to spotlight core skills needed to negotiate the new design frontier including Framing the learning design approach Analyzing the learning environment Designing learning that capitalizes on tablet technology Developing activities that match learning needs Implementing the learning design Conducting evaluations before during and after This is proactive reading befitting a future of exciting developments in educational technology For researchers and practitioners in this and allied fields Designing Instruction for Tablet Classrooms offers limitless opportunities to think outside the box Anatomy and Physiology, Laboratory Manual Connie Allen, Valerie Harper, 2016-12-28 The Allen Laboratory Manual for Anatomy and Physiology 6th Edition contains dynamic and applied activities and experiments that help students both visualize anatomical structures and understand complex physiological topics Lab exercises are designed in a way that requires students to first apply information they learned and then critically evaluate it With many different format options available and powerful digital resources it's easy to customize this laboratory manual to best fit your course School Library Journal, 1999 The American Biology Teacher, 1998 Comparison of Traditional and Virtual Fetal Pig Dissection in High School Biology James J. Jerome, 2001 Virtual Fetal Pig Dissection as an Agent of Knowledge Acquisition and Attitudinal Change in Female High School Students Rebecca S. Maloney, 2002 One way to determine if all students can learn through the use of computers is to introduce a lesson taught completely via computers and compare the results with those gained when the same lesson is taught in a traditional manner This study attempted to determine if a virtual fetal pig dissection can be used as a viable alternative for an actual dissection for females enrolled in high school biology classes by comparing the knowledge acquisition and attitudinal change between the experimental virtual dissection and control actual dissection groups Two hundred and twenty four students enrolled in biology classes in a suburban all girl parochial high school participated in this study Female students in an all girl high school were chosen because research shows differences in science competency and computer usage between the genders that may mask the performance of females on computer based tasks in a science laboratory exercise Students who completed the virtual dissection scored significantly higher on practical and objective tests that were used to measure knowledge acquisition Attitudinal change was measured by examining the students attitudes toward dissections computer usage in the classroom and toward biology both before and after the dissections using pre and post surveys Significant results in positive gain scores were found in the virtual dissection group's attitude toward dissections and their negative gain score toward virtual dissections Attitudinal changes toward computers and biology were not significant A purposefully selected sample of the students were interviewed in addition to gathering a sample of the students' daily dissection journals as data highlighting their thoughts and feelings about their dissection experience Further research is suggested to determine if a virtual laboratory experience can be a substitute for actual dissections or may serve as an enhancement to an actual dissection
