Analysis

1. During 1906 and 1907, what two methods did the Forest Service use to protect the Kaibab deer?

Theodore Roosevelt created a national game reserve and they exterminated the predators of the Kaibab deer.

1. Why did you expect the population of the deer to grow so rapidly over time?

The deer were protected from predators and the population grew rapidly.

1. Why did you expect the population of deer to decline in 1925, although the extermination of predators occurred?

The deer were overhunted and the population declined rapidly.

1. Why did you think the deer population rose in 1920 and 1924 when the extermination of predators had occurred many years before?

The deer population rose because the deer were not hunted for the majority of the population.

1. Why did the deer population decline after 1924?

The deer were overhunted. The population was not growing as fast as the deer were being hunted.
