Intelligent System Solutions for Auto Mobility and Beyond Carolin Zachäus, Gereon Meyer, 2020-12-10 This book gathers papers from the 23rd International Forum on Advanced Microsystems for Automotive Applications AMAA 2020 held online from Berlin Germany on May 26 27 2020 Focusing on intelligent system solutions for auto mobility and beyond it discusses in detail innovations and technologies enabling electrification automation and diversification as well as strategies for a better integration of vehicles into the networks of traffic data and power Further the book addresses other relevant topics including the role of human factors and safety issues in automated driving solutions for shared mobility as well as automated bus transport in rural areas Implications of current circumstances such as those generated by climate change on the future development of auto mobility are also analysed providing researchers practitioners and policy makers with an authoritative snapshot of the state of the art and a source of inspiration for future developments and collaborations

Plug-in Vehicles, Plugged in Policy? Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Transport Committee, 2012-09-20 Consumer demand for plug in vehicles remains very low and the Government grant to encourage demand may not be proving effective The Government must do more to show that its plug in vehicle strategy is a good use of public money Carbon emissions from transport must be reduced if the UK is to meet its climate change targets but public money must be targeted on effective policies So far Department for Transport expenditure on plug in cars some 11 million has benefited just a handful of motorists There is a risk that the Government is basically subsidising second cars for affluent households It is also unclear whether the provision of public charging infrastructure encourages demand for plug in cars Indeed the Government does not even have a register of all the chargepoints installed at public expense

Learning Rates of Electric Vehicles Andreas Zerfaß, 2017-11-01 Governments of many countries consider the electrification of individual passenger transport as a suitable strategy to decrease oil dependency and reduce transport related carbon dioxide CO2 and air pollutant emissions However battery electric vehicles BEVs and plug in hybrid electric vehicles PHEVs have been more expensive than their conventional counterparts and suffer from relatively short electric driving ranges which still hampers the market potential of these vehicles Despite persisting shortfalls mechanisms such as technological learning and economics of scale promise to improve the techno economic performance of BEVs and PHEVs in the short to mid term Here the author seeks to obtain insight into the techno economic prospects of BEVs and PHEVs by i establishing experience curves and ii quantifying user costs and the costs of mitigating carbon dioxide and air pollutant emissions in a time series analysis The analysis captures the situation in Germany between 2010 and 2016
