Negotiating Religious Gaps John Lai, 2024-11-01 This book constitutes a pioneering and comprehensive text in context study of the translation of Christian tracts from English into Chinese by Protestant missionaries in nineteenth century China. It focuses on the large body of hitherto widely neglected Protestant Chinese books and tracts, putting the translated texts into their socio-political, cultural and ideological contexts. This integrated approach proves to be fruitful and insightful in describing and explaining actual practices of translation or translation norms. The book addresses the central issue of how original texts were selected, translated and presented by Protestant missionaries under the patronage of various missionary institutions in order to achieve their specific agendas. Based on primary materials and rare archival documents, this extensive survey of the corpus of Chinese Christian literature fills a significant gap in the evaluation of Protestant missions to China, especially with regard to the role of the Religious Tract Society (RTS). Moreover, the contributions of Chinese collaborators are examined in detail to achieve a more balanced view in assessing the role of missionary translators. The book also sheds light on the sophisticated procedures and strategies of cross-cultural translation, particularly on the facet of religious translation in the Chinese translation tradition. John T. P. Lai provides a wealth of information about the development of Protestant religious publishing in late imperial China. Full of interesting data and illustrations, this work should find an audience with church historians and mission scholars.

Variance in Arabic Manuscripts Florian Sobieroj, 2016-05-24 In Arabic and Islamic studies, the subject of variance in general and that of textual variation in particular has not been investigated exhaustively so far. In the present book, the variation in texts of the closed transmission will be studied, focusing on a small corpus of didactic and model poems with a view to establishing what degree of text stability and change was allowed by the medium manuscript. Categories of variance relating to work titles, text number of verses and their sequence, page layout, context and the means of controlling them in the manuscripts of the poems are identified and detailed descriptions of the copies are given. The monograph also includes a presentation of some major traits of the cultural background to the study of Arabic didactic poetry and of its dissemination in which memorization has played a crucial role The intended readers editors and other users of manuscripts are helped to acquaint themselves with the methods employed in the manuscripts to control variation and they are given an overview of the large spectrum of Arabic didactic poetry and of its place in the traditional culture of learning in Islamic societies Record of Christian Work Alexander McConnell, William Revell Moody, Arthur Percy Fitt, 1922 Includes music

Sounds in Translation Amy Chan, Alistair Noble, 2009-09-01 Sounds in Translation Intersections of music technology and society joins a growing number of publications taking up R Murray Schafer's challenge to examine and to refocus attention on the sound dimensions of our human environment This book takes up his challenge to contemporary audiologists musicologists and sound artists working within areas of music cultural studies media studies and social science to explore the idea of the soundscape and to investigate the acoustic environment that we inhabit It seeks to raise questions regarding the translative process of sound 1 what happens to sound during the process of transfer and transformation and 2 what transpires in the process of sound production expression performance Sounds in Translation was conceived to take advantage of new technology and a development in book publishing the electronic book Much of what is written in the book is best illustrated by the sound itself and in that sense permits sound to speak for itself The Moslem World, 1926

The Catechism Yesterday and Today Berard L. Marthaler, 1995 the Catechism Yesterday Today presents a survey of Catholic history that recalls individuals and incidents some little known some forgotten that shaped the Church's catechetical ministry It is a study of faith and culture addressed to the general reader as well as to historians religious educators and theologians Moslem World, 1927 Crossing Cultures Judith Oster, 2003 In this important new study Judith Oster looks at the literature of Chinese Americans and Jewish Americans in relation to each other Examining what is most at issue for both groups as they live between two cultures languages and environments Oster focuses on the struggles of protagonists to form identities that are necessarily bicultural and always in process Recognizing what poststructuralism has demonstrated regarding the instability of the subject and the impossibility of a unitary identity Oster contends that the writers of these works are attempting to shore up the fragments to construct through their texts some sort of wholeness and to answer at least partially the questions Who am I and Where do I belong Book Jacket Science and Civilisation in China, Part 1, Paper and Printing Joseph Needham, Tsien Tsuen-Hsün, 1985-07-11 Part one of the fifth volume of Joseph Needham's great enterprise is written by one of the project's collaborators Professor Tsien Tsuen Hsün working in regular consultation with Dr Needham has written the most comprehensive account of every aspect of paper and printing in China to be published in the West From a close study of the vast mass of source material Professor Tsien brings order and illumination to an area of technology which has been of profound importance in the spread of civilisation The main body of the book is a detailed study of the invention technology and aesthetic development of printing in China From the growth and ultimate refinements of early woodcut printing to the spread of printing from movable type and the development of book binding Professor Tsien carries the story forward to the beginning of the nineteenth century when more printed pages existed in Chinese than in all other languages put together

Manuscripts and Travellers Sam van Schaik, Imre Galambos, 2011-11-30 This study is based on a manuscript which was carried by a Chinese monk through the monasteries of the Hexi corridor as part of his pilgrimage from Wutaishan to India The manuscript has been created as a composite object from three separate documents with Chinese and Tibetan texts on them Included is a series of Tibetan letters of introduction addressed to the heads of monasteries along the route functioning as a passport when passing through the region The manuscript dates to the late 960s coinciding with the large pilgrimage movement during the reign of Emperor Taizu of the Northern Song recorded in transmitted sources Therefore it is very likely that this is a unique contemporary testimony of the movement of which our pilgrim was also part Complementing extant historical sources the manuscript provides evidence for the high degree of ethnic cultural and linguistic diversity in Western China during this period

Asian Translation Traditions Eva Tsoi Hung Hung, Judy Wakabayashi, 2014-07-16 Translation Studies one of the fastest developing fields in the humanities since the early 1980s has so far been Euro centric both in its theoretical explorations and in its historical grounding One of the major reasons for this is the unavailability of reliable data and systematic analysis of translation activities in non European cultures While a number of scholars in the Western tradition of translation studies have become increasingly aware of this bias and its problems practically indicates that the burden of addressing such deficiencies and imbalances should be on the shoulders of scholars who are conversant with the non Western translation traditions and capable of engaging in much needed basic research This book brings together eleven scholars with expertise in different Asian translation traditions who highlight language and cultural environments as well as perceptions and modes of operation often different from those in the Western tradition Their contributions enhance our understanding of the various elements that influence the transfer of knowledge across cultures and provide invaluable data for the study of translation as a force for cultural development and cultural planning Contributors include Eva Hung Judy Wakabayashi Lawrence Wong Yoshihiro Osawa Teresa Hyun Keith Taylor Rita Kothari Doris Jedamski Raniela Barbaza and Bill Cummings

Beyond Conversion and Syncretism avid,, Miles Richardson, 2011-10-01 The globalization of Christianity its spread and appeal to peoples of non European origin is by now a well known phenomenon Scholars increasingly realize the importance of natives rather than foreign missionaries in the process of evangelization This volume contributes to the understanding of this process through case studies of encounters with Christianity from the perspectives of the indigenous peoples who converted More importantly by exploring overarching general terms such as conversion and syncretism and by showing the variety of strategies and processes that actually take place these studies lead to a more nuanced understanding of cross cultural religious interactions in general from acceptance to resistance thus enriching the vocabulary of religious interaction The contributors tackle these issues from a variety of disciplinary perspectives history anthropology religious studies and present a broad geographical spread of cases from China Vietnam Australia India South and West Africa North and Central America and the Caribbean Encyclopedia of Religion Lindsay Jones,2005 Encyclopaedia of Religion and Ethics James Hastings,John Alexander Selbie,Louis Herbert Gray,1916

Mexifornia Victor Davis Hanson,2021-07-13 Part history part political analysis and part memoir Mexifornia is an intensely personal work by one of our most important writers Victor Davis Hanson known for his military histories and his social commentary is a fifth generation Californian who lives on a family farm in the Central Valley and has written eloquent elegies on the decline of agrarianism Fields Without Dreams and The Land Was Everything Here too he ponders what has changed in California over the past quarter century examining how the state and the Southwest more broadly indeed the entire nation have been altered by hemorrhaging borders Hanson admires the ambition and vigor of immigrants who have helped make California strong but he indicts the disordered immigration policies that led to the present mess He also illuminates the ways those policies are harmful to people who have come from Mexico and Central America seeking a better life in the United States Nearly twenty years after the first publication of Mexifornia Hanson offers an update on the continuing tragedy of illegal immigration At the same time he remains hopeful that our traditions of integration assimilation and intermarriage may yet remedy a predicament created by politicians and ideologues Lutheran Churches in the World Ernest Theodore Bachmann,Mercia Brenne Bachmann,1989 AB Bookman's Weekly ,1998
