Power parody of Michelle and Barack Obama The image put a spotlight on how easy it is to flatten the Black Power movement as we imagine new types of blackness Margo Natalie Crawford argues that we have misread the Black Arts Movement's call for blackness We have failed to see the movement's anticipation of the new black and post black Black Post Blackness compares the black avant garde of the 1960s and 1970s Black Arts Movement with the most innovative spins of twenty first century black aesthetics Crawford zooms in on the 1970s second wave of the Black Arts Movement and shows the connections between this final wave of the Black Arts movement and the early years of twenty first century black aesthetics She uncovers the circle of black post blackness that pivots on the power of anticipation abstraction mixed media the global South satire public interiority and the fantastic Factory ,1914 Vols 24 no 3 v 34 no 3 include International industrial digest The Trouble with Post-Blackness Houston A. Baker Jr.,K. Merinda Simmons,2015-02-03 An America in which the color of one's skin no longer matters would be unprecedented With the election of President Barack Obama in 2008 that future suddenly seemed possible Obama's rise reflects a nation of fluid populations and fortunes a society in which a biracial individual could be embraced as a leader by all Yet complicating this vision are shifting demographics rapid redefinitions of race and the instant invention of brands trends and identities that determine how we think about ourselves and the place of others This collection of original essays confronts the premise advanced by black intellectuals that the Obama administration marked the start of a post racial era in the United States While the transcendent and post racial black elite declare victory over America's longstanding codes of racial exclusion and racist violence their evidence relies largely on their own salaries and celebrity These essays strike at the certainty of those who insist that life liberty and the pursuit of happiness are now independent of skin color and race in America They argue signify and testify that post blackness is a problematic mythology masquerading as fact a dangerous new race science motivated by black transcendentalist individualism Through rigorous analysis these essays expose the idea of a post racial nation as a pleasurable entitlement for a black elite enabling them to reject the ethics and urgency of improving the well being of the black majority Factory and Industrial Management John Robertson Dunlap,Arthur Van Vliissingen,John M.
