autobiographical conceit as Martin Cruz Smith has Parkinson's and is able through Arkady to movingly describe his own experience with the disease Parkinson's hasn't stopped Smith from his work and neither does it stop Arkady. Rather than dwell on his diagnosis he throws himself into another case. An acquaintance has asked him to find his daughter Karina, an anti-Putin activist who has disappeared. In the course of the investigation Arkady falls for Karina's roommate Elena, a Tatar from Ukraine. The search leads them to Kyiv where rumblings of an armed conflict grow louder. Later in Crimea Tatiana reemerges to complicate Arkady's new romance. And as he gets closer to locating Karina, Arkady discovers something that threatens his life as well as the lives of both Elena and Tatiana. Few fiction writers have better captured contemporary Russia with more insight or authenticity than Martin Cruz Smith. He does the same here for Ukraine and the events that preceded Russia's invasion.
