Recipes for Reading Anne Bower,1997 The community cookbook is a familiar item in many kitchens Usually compiled by women and sold to raise funds for a charitable cause these collections of recipes may seem to be utilitarian objects that exhibit little if any narrative interest But this is hardly the case In Recipes for Reading scholars from a variety of disciplines examine community cookbooks as complex texts deserving serious study The contributors contend that such cookbooks have stories to tell about the lives and values of the women who wrote them stories that are autobiographical in most cases historical in some and fictive in others

A Lapsed Anarchist's Approach to The Power of Beliefs in Business Ari Weinzwieg,2016-07-14 Ari s new book is the culmination of a lifetime of learning and thirty four years in business the last three of which have been spent intensively studying reflecting on and writing about the critical role of beliefs in the businesses and organizations of which we re a part The fruits of that labor are now available in this new 600 page book We could tell you more about what s in the book but we think John U Bacon author of the New York Times bestseller Endzone The Rise Fall and Return of Michigan Football said it better than we ever could Some business leaders know practice Some know theory Ari Weinzwieg is one of the few who knows both He has built a famously successful organization while giving it more thought than do the business gurus who merely philosophize about such things The insights Ari shares here are both deeply perceptive and highly practical from the ideas of Howard Zinn Viktor Frankl and Anais Nin on one page to the importance of learning your employees names on the next Like its author this book is uncommonly smart helpful and just plain fun

Feeding France E. C. Spary,2014-05-22 Feeding France is the first comprehensive study of the French food industry in the decades surrounding the French Revolution of 1789 Though the history of gastronomy and the restaurant have been explored by scholars few are aware that France was also one of the first nations to produce industrial foods In this time of political and social upheaval chemists managed to succeed both as public food experts and as industrial food manufacturers This book explores the intersection between knowledge practice and commerce which made this new food expertise possible and the institutional and experimental culture which housed it Ranging from the exigencies of Old Regime
