in Translator and Interpreter Training Maria Gonzalez-Davies, Vanessa Enríquez Raído, 2018-10-18 Situated Learning is generally understood as a context dependent approach to translator and interpreter training under which learners are exposed to real life and or highly simulated collaborative work environments and tasks both inside and outside the classroom Ultimately Situated Learning seeks to enhance learners capacity to think and act like professionals This book sets out to gauge the extent to which different factors influence the implementation of Situated Learning models in various teaching and learning contexts It presents an understanding of Situated Learning that goes beyond previous interpretations of this notion traditionally dominated by the discussion of pedagogical practices in authentic i e real world or semi authentic professional settings This wider remit of Situated Learning encompasses previously underrepresented contextual factors pertaining to translation traditions historical trends community beliefs and customs socio economic constraints market conditions institutional practices budgetary issues or resource availability The pedagogical considerations of these key aspects make this book particularly useful for both novice and seasoned teachers of translation and interpreting with an interest in informed practical advice on how to implement the principles of Situated Learning in collaborative teaching and learning environments that seek to promote translators and or interpreters professional competence This book was originally
