Sunday stories, ed. by H. Aspden Hartley Aspden,1903 “Liaozhai” 聊齋; Strange Tales from a Chinese Lonely Studio (Complete Translation) Pu Songlin, Liaozhai Zhiyi Liaozhai Chinese or called in English Strange Tales from a Chinese Lonely Studio is a collection of Classical Chinese stories by Pu Songling comprising close to five hundred marvel tales in the zhiguai and chuanqi styles which serve to implicitly criticise societal issues then Dating back to the Qing dynasty its earliest publication date is given as 1740 Since then many of the critically lauded stories have been adapted for other media such as film and television The main characters of this book apparently are ghosts foxes immortals and demons but the author focused on the everyday life of commoners He used the supernatural and the unexplainable to illustrate his ideas of society and government He criticized the corruption and injustice in society and sympathized with the poor The book is complete translation of all volumes Vol 1 to 12 of Liaozhai Folk Women and Indirection in Morrison, N Dhuibhne, Hurston, and Lavin Jacqueline Fulmer,2017-11-30 Focusing on the lineage of pivotal African American and Irish women writers the author argues that these authors often employ strategies of indirection via folkloric expression when exploring unpopular topics This strategy holds the attention of readers who would otherwise reject the subject matter The author traces the line of descent from Mary Lavin to il s N Dhuibhne and from Zora Neale Hurston to Toni Morrison showing how obstacles to free expression though varying from those Lavin and Hurston faced are still encountered by Morrison and N Dhuibhne The basis for comparing these authors lies in the strategies of indirection they use as influenced by folklore The folkloric characters these authors depict wild denizens of the Otherworld and wise women of various traditions help their creators insert controversy into fiction in ways that charm rather than alienate readers Forms of rhetorical indirection that appear in the context of folklore such as signifying practices masking sly civility and the grotesque

or bizarre come out of the mouths and actions of these writers magical and magisterial characters Old traditions can offer new ways of discussing issues such as sexual expression religious beliefs or issues of reproduction As differences between times and cultures affect what can and cannot be said folkloric indirection may open up a vista to discourses of which we as readers may not even be aware Finally the folk women of Morrison N Dhuibhne Hurston and Lavin open up new points of entry to the discussion of fiction rhetoric censorship and folklore
