South Africa's water governance hydraulic mission (1912-2008) in a WEF-Nexus context Johann W.N. Tempelhoff, 2018-12-01 Geologists physicists and ecologists currently promote the idea of a post Holocene epoch the Anthropocene As a result of constant innovation and modernisation in the fields of engineering natural science management studies and environmental studies there has been a growing awareness of the intrinsic interaction between humankind and the environment. Humankind has become part of the environmental dynamics to the extent that they are literally able to change ecosystems. Nowhere is the impact more evident than in the anthropogenic engagement with the hydrosphere from the smallest pool of water to the earth's atmosphere. Comprehensive infrastructure development in water and sanitation, the growing trend to seek additional resources in the form of groundwater, desalinated seawater and recycled wastewater as well as special attention being given to capturing and preserving rainwater bear evidence of a timely response to climate change, population growth and rapid development in many water stressed regions of the world. The purpose of the book is to provide a historical overview of the manner in which South Africa's water resources have been governed from a time when the Union of South Africa was formed in 1910 up to 2008, a time of a growing global awareness of the potential impact that climate change may have on water resources in a key region of southern Africa notable for increasing levels of aridity and more erratic rainfall patterns. This focus on the history of water affairs in South Africa makes it possible for scholars to comprehend the contemporary transitions made in the country's water governance system since the establishment in 2014 of the Department of Water and Sanitation. The focus is on the Water-Energy-Food nexus, a strategy which holistically contemplates the governance and use of water from the perspective of the interconnection between water, energy and food as resources.

The implementation of international law in Germany and South Africa Mehrdad Payandeh, Silja Vöneky, Dire Tladi, Alexander Proelss, Patrick Vrancken, Leonie Hensgen, Engela Schlemmer, Wolfgang Durner, Lisa Chamberlain, Tumai Murombo, Nicola Wenzel, Lilian Chenwi, Kirsten Schmalenbach, Christopher Gevers, Bonolo Dinokopila, Matthias Herdegen, 2015-07-23. South Africa, the power house of the African continent as well as Germany, Europe's largest economic power, are faced with an intricate maze of international obligations whether related to the United Nations, the World Trade Organization, the African Union or the European Union. EU international human rights law, international humanitarian law or any other sub-regime of international law. The two countries are in a different position when facing the implementation of this maze of obligations. South Africa is a developing economy that faces various capacity challenges which at times also impact the manner and extent to which it implements its international treaty obligations. Germany, on the other hand, benefits from comparatively well-funded institutes of international law and a well-trained academic community which have contributed to the successful implementation of much of international law. But as the relevant chapters in this volume show, the German case is not without its own complexities. As a result, an exchange of ideas and experiences pertaining to the implementation of international obligations can prove fruitful for both countries. Moreover, such an exchange could also serve as a useful point of departure for other countries in Southern Africa that face similar challenges in relation to implementation. The current book explores suitable techniques of implementation of international law by comparing South Africa with Germany. After a general overview of the status of international law within Germany and South Africa respectively, it focuses on the implementation of international instruments pertaining to key sub areas of international law in the two countries These include the United Nations Charter peace and security the international law of the sea international economic law international environmental law international human rights law international criminal law regional integration and the status of international judicial decisions before domestic courts Corrupted Jonathan D Jansen,2023-02 Through investigatory reports and interviews Jonathan Jansen reveals the structural conditions for chronic dysfunction in a sample of South African universities He reveals the political economy at work and the intense competition for resources on campuses He also provides interventions for these fragile institutions Experiments in Moral and Political Philosophy Hugo

Viciano, Antonio Gaitán, Fernando Aguiar,2023-07-31 This volume presents new research on the use of experimental methodologies in moral and social philosophy The contributions reflect the growing plurality of methodologies and strategies for implementing experimental work on morality to new domains problems and topics Philosophers are exploring the ways in which empirical approaches can transform our idea of the good our understanding of the social nature of norms and morality and our methods of fulfilling ethical goals The chapters in this volume extend experimental work on morality to previously underexplored areas The contributions in Part 1 explore the methods and foundations of experimental work in areas such as folk moral judgments metaethical beliefs moral explanations and reflective equilibrium Part 2 focuses on issues in normative ethics and legal and political philosophy such as virtue ethics utilitarianism theories of justice and criminal responsibility Finally the chapters in Part 3 tackle various applied ethical issues including feminist X Phi animal welfare experimental bioethics and self driving cars Experiments in Moral and Political Philosophy will be of interest to scholars and advanced students working in ethics applied ethics experimental philosophy social and political philosophy and philosophy of law Chapter 1 and 15 of this book are available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.taylorfrancis.com They have been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license The Real Economy Federico Neiburg, Jane I. Guyer,2020-05-01 This collection highlights a key metaphor in contemporary discourse about economy and society The contributors explore how references to reality and the real economy are linked both to the utopias of collective well being supported by real monies and good economies and the dystopias of financial bubbles and busts in which people's own lives crash along with the reality of their economies An ambitious anthropology of economy this volume questions how assemblages of vernacular and scientific realizations and enactments of the economy are linked to ideas of truth and moral value how these multiple and shifting realities become present and entangle with historically and socially situated lives and how the formal realizations of the concept of the real in the governance of economies engage with the experiential lives of ordinary people Featuring essays from some of the world's most prominent economic anthropologists The Real Economy is a milestone collection in economic anthropology that crosses disciplinary boundaries and adds new life to social studies of the economy Secondary Cities and Development Lochner

Marais, Etienne Nel, Ronnie Donaldson, 2016-05-20 The role secondary cities play in the global space economy and national urban hierarchies is increasingly receiving attention from scholars and international agencies most notably the Cities Alliance Secondary Cities and Development considers the role of secondary cities through the lens of South Africa a middle income country with characteristics of both the developed and developing worlds This book brings together a broad overview of international literature on secondary cities in South Africa and mirrors them against global experience Chapters emphasize the importance of secondary cities as regional services areas their potential roles in rural development the vulnerabilities to which they are prone and their significant potential By means of review six South African case studies and an assessment of contemporary policy approaches towards these cities this unique volume provides insight into a spectrum of globally significant challenges This book would be of interest to academics and policy makers working in urban studies or regional development

Pan-African Chronology II Everett Jenkins, Jr., 2015-07-11 This continuation volume of the Pan African Chronology set covers the most significant events in the African diaspora from the end of the American Civil War through the pre World War I years This was a time of great change for black Americans Reconstruction the founding of the NAACP the formation of the separate but equal doctrine and the migration of blacks from the rural South to Northern cities The eradication of slavery as a legalized institution was finally realized in the Americas while the struggle to end it in Asia was also taking place European colonialism in Africa was accelerated ironically coinciding with humanitarian efforts to end the slave trade on the African continent These events and many others are covered here
