World History Ellis Esler Summary:

(Re)Constructing Memory: Education, Identity, and Conflict Michelle J. Bellino, James H. Williams, 2017-02-08 How do schools protect young people and call on the youngest citizens to respond to violent conflict and division operating outside and sometimes within school walls What kinds of curricular representations of conflict contribute to the construction of national identity and what kinds of encounters challenge presumed boundaries between us and them Through contemporary and historical case studies drawn from Cambodia Egypt Northern Ireland Peru and Rwanda among others this collection explores how societies experiencing armed conflict and its aftermath imagine education as a space for forging collective identity peace and stability and national citizenship In some contexts the erasure of conflict and the homogenization of difference are central to shaping national identities and attitudes In other cases collective memory of conflict functions as a central organizing frame through which citizenship and national identity are re constructed with embedded messages about who belongs and how social belonging is achieved The essays in this volume illuminate varied and complex inter relationships between education conflict and national identity while accounting for ways in which policymakers teachers youth and community members replicate resist and transform conflict through everyday interactions in educational spaces

Biblical Captivity Robert Kimball Shinkoskey, 2012-09-11 Early literary man learned that free speech and free labor were frequently suppressed or obliterated by powerful governments in the Near Eastern world This is the source of the Bible s passionate interest in liberation from political and economic repression Moses and his people in Egypt for example experienced the rapid disintegration of their traditional right to religious liberty and self directed labor They attempted to rectify the situation at Sinai and in Canaan Mesopotamians and Egyptians Greeks Sicilians and Romans labored against tyranny as well Robert Kimball Shinkoskey focuses on stories laws and movements dealing with the problem of political idolatry in the ancient world His purpose is to show that the Bible is a civic narrative as much as a religious one and that the Ten Commandments are articles in a constitutional law system that promotes the steady rule of law rather than the capricious rule of man
