A Primer for Teaching World History Antoinette Burton, 2012 This book offers principles to consider when creating a world history syllabus it prompts a teacher rather than aiming for full world coverage to pick an interpretive focus and thread it through the course It will be used by university faculty graduate students and high school teachers who are teaching world history for the first time or want to rethink their approach to teaching the subject Virginia Journal of Education ,2003

When I Fell Michael Murphy, 2021-01-05 1 6 seconds That s how long it takes to fall two stories That s how long it takes for life to change When Michael Murphy was 21 he fell off a roof at college and landed flat on his back severing his spine They say that nobody understands their own traumatic injury just after it happens but Michael did Every person falls They fall short in school in life in work and in love Their lives sometimes feel punctuated by those downfalls the rejection letters the unrequited love the missed promotions the life altering traumas Everyone falls But then what When I Fell is a true tale of going from abled to disabled to empowered It combines the story surrounding Michael s recovery with the science of resiliency and thriving what psychologists are now calling Posttraumatic Growth PTG to teach readers how to hit home runs when life throws them curves Befitting new mainstream acceptance for disabilities When I Fell is as much a memoir as it is a message It features the five principles established by Drs Tedeschi and Calhoun the pioneers who coined the phrase in the 1990 s for scientific validation to bring PTG further into the public eye Resources in Education ,2001-04

Tables in the Wilderness Preston Yancey, 2014-09-30 In Tables in the Wilderness Preston Yancey arrived at Baylor University in the autumn of 2008 with his life figured out he was Southern Baptist conservative had a beautiful girlfriend he would soon propose to had spent the summer living in southeast Asia as a missionary and planned to study political science Then God slowly allowed Preston s secure world to fall apart until every piece of what he thought was true was lost his church his life of study his political leanings his girlfriend his best friend and his God It was the loss of God in the midst of all the godly things that changed Preston forever One day he felt he heard God say It s going to be about trust with you and then God was silent and he still hasn t spoken At least not in the ways Preston used to think were the only ways God spoke No pillars of fire no clouds just a bit of whisper in wind Now Preston is a patchwork of Anglican spirituality and Baptist sensibility with a mother who has been in chronic neurological pain for thirteen years and father still devoted to Southern Baptist ministry who reads saints lives on the side He now shares his story of coming to terms with a God who is bigger than the one he thought he was worshiping the God of a common faith the God who makes tables in the wilderness the God who is found in cathedrals and in forests and in the Eucharist the God who speaks in fire and in wind the God who is bigger than narrow understandings of his will his desire his plan the God who is so big that everything must be his I'm a Sub, Bub!

Jim Mixon, 2011-11 Steve Farland needs help paying the bills He works from home and work isn t always as steady as he would like it to be So Steve decides to become a substitute teacher He only has to work the days he wants he can help children at the local public schools and Mr Farland has an awfully nice ring to it But after spending some time in the classroom Mr Farland realizes that subbing isn't exactly an easy way to earn extra cash I'm a Sub Bub follows Mr Farland as he spends a year as a substitute in the public school system He slowly realizes that these schools aren't the same as the schools of the good ol' days in which Steve was educated The kids are selfish and unmotivated and the administrators are too busy preserving political correctness and avoiding lawsuits to worry about how much their students learn Mr Farland makes the best of a year that includes a fire in a chemistry lab a day of school being canceled because of a broken air conditioner and even a wild episode on a school roof that draws attention from the fire department the police and the school's marching band When a prominent football coach is fired for holding a team prayer before a big game Mr Farland reaches his limit and comes face to face with the school board and the district's most powerful administrators A humorous insightful take on the state of our nation's public schools today I'm a Sub Bub is sure to entertain teachers parents and anyone who worries about what our children are learning or not learning when they go to school Guide to American Graduate Schools Harold R. Doughty, 2009-02-24 For students planning further study after college the Guide to American Graduate Schools puts the necessary information at their fingertips Completely revised and updated this long trusted and indispensable tool features comprehensive information on every aspect of graduate and professional study including Alphabetically arranged profiles of more than 1,200 accredited institutions including enrollment locations libraries and other facilities and housing situations Fields of study offered by each institution and types of degrees conferred Admissions standards and requirements recruitment practices and degree requirements Tuition costs and opportunities for financial aid Details on scholarships fellowships assistantships and internships Organized in a clear straightforward easy to use format this is the essential source with which to begin planning for the future Teaching History with Big Ideas S. G. Grant, Jill M. Gradwell, 2010-07-16 In the case studies that make up the bulk of this book middle and high school history teachers describe the decisions and plans and the problems and possibilities they encountered as they ratcheted up their instruction through the use of big ideas Framing a teaching unit around a question such as Why don't we know anything about Africa offers both teacher and students opportunities to explore historical actors ideas and events in ways both rich and engaging Such an approach exemplifies the construct of ambitious teaching whereby teachers demonstrate their ability to marry their deep knowledge of subject matter students and the school context in ways that fundamentally challenge the claim that history is boring

Making History Mine Sarah Cooper, 2009 Built around eight themes examining the role of the individual understanding point of view assessing the impact of rhetoric finding patterns in the past writing analytically connecting current events to historical precedents igniting passion through research and exploring ethics and morals Making History Mine offers young adolescents a window to the wider world This comprehensive volume gives teachers and students a solid framework for exploring and understanding history including how to analyze primary source documents extrapolate themes and detect bias in a historian's argument Back cover The Myth of Achievement Tests James J. Heckman, John Eric Humphries, Tim Kautz, 2014-01-14 Achievement tests play an important role in modern societies They are used to evaluate schools to assign students to tracks within schools and to identify weaknesses in student knowledge The GED is an achievement test used to grant the status of high school graduate to anyone who passes it GED recipients currently account for 12 percent of all high school credentials issued each year in the United States But do achievement tests predict success in life The Myth of Achievement Tests shows that achievement tests like the GED fail to measure important life skills James J Heckman John Eric Humphries Tim Kautz and a group of scholars offer an in depth exploration of how the GED came to be used throughout the United States and why our reliance on it is dangerous Drawing on decades of research the authors show that while GED recipients score as well on achievement tests as high school graduates who do not enroll in college high school graduates vastly outperform GED recipients in terms of their earnings employment opportunities educational attainment and health The authors show that the differences in success between GED recipients and high school graduates are driven by character skills Achievement tests like the GED do not adequately capture character skills like conscientiousness perseverance sociability and curiosity These skills are important in predicting a variety of life outcomes They can be measured and they can be taught Using the GED as a case study the authors explore what achievement tests miss and show the dangers of an educational system based on them They call for a return to an emphasis on character in our schools our systems of accountability and our national dialogue Contributors Eric Grodsky University of Wisconsin Madison Andrew Halpern Manners Indiana University Bloomington Paul A LaFontaine Federal Communications Commission Janice H Laurence Temple University Lois M Quinn University of Wisconsin Milwaukee Pedro L Rodriguez Institute of Advanced Studies in Administration John Robert Warren University of Minnesota Twin Cities Studies in World History Volume 1 (Teacher Guide) James P. Wertheimer, 2016-08-23 An intimate cross country look at the new debate over religion in the public schools A suburban Boston school unwittingly started a firestorm of controversy over a sixth grade field trip The class was visiting a mosque to learn about world religions when a handful of boys unnoticed by their teachers joined the line of worshippers and acted out the motions of the Muslim call to prayer A video of the prayer went viral with the title Wellesley Massachusetts Public School Students Learn to Pray to Allah Charges flew that the school exposed the children to Muslims who intended to convert

American schoolchildren Wellesley school officials defended the course but also acknowledged the delicate dance teachers must perform when dealing with religion in the classroom Courts long ago banned public school teachers from preaching of any kind But the question remains How much should schools teach about the world s religions Answering that question in recent decades has pitted schools against their communities Veteran education journalist Linda K Wertheimer spent months with that class and traveled to other communities around the nation listening to voices on all sides of the controversy including those of clergy teachers children and parents who are Muslim Jewish Christian Sikh or atheist In Lumberton Texas nearly a hundred people filled a school board meeting to protest a teacher s dress up exercise that allowed freshman girls to try on a burka as part of a lesson on Islam In Wichita Kansas a Messianic Jewish family s opposition to a bulletin board display about Islam in an elementary school led to such upheaval that the school had to hire extra security Across the country parents have requested that their children be excused from lessons on Hinduism and Judaism out of fear they will shy away from their own faiths But in Modesto a city in the heart of California s Bible Belt teachers have avoided problems since 2000 when the school system began requiring all high school freshmen to take a world religions course Students receive comprehensive lessons on the three major world religions as well as on Sikhism Hinduism Buddhism and often Shintoism Taoism and Confucianism One Pentecostal Christian girl terrified by idols including a six inch gold Buddha learned to be comfortable with other students beliefs Wertheimer s fascinating investigation which includes a return to her rural Ohio school which once ran weekly Christian Bible classes reveals a public education system struggling to find the right path forward and offers a promising roadmap for raising a new generation of religiously literate Americans Indiana
