Global History, Globally Sven Beckert, Dominic Sachsenmaier, 2018-02-22 In recent years historians in many different parts of the world have sought to transnationalize and globalize their perspectives on the past Despite all these efforts to gain new global historical visions however the debates surrounding this movement have remained rather provincial in scope Global History Globally addresses this lacuna by surveying the state of global history in different world regions Divided into three distinct but tightly interweaved sections the book s chapters provide regional surveys of the practice of global history on all continents review some of the research in four core fields of global history and consider a number of problems that global historians have contended with in their work The authors hail from various world regions and are themselves leading global historians Collectively they provide an unprecedented survey of what today is the most dynamic field in the discipline of history As one of the first books to systematically discuss the international dimensions of global historical scholarship and address a wealth of questions emanating from them Global History Globally is a must read book for all students and scholars of global history

Societies Past and Present Thomas C. Burr, 2025-09-24 This global and comparative history examines the evolution of human societies over many millennia illuminating patterns within societies today It shows how the original human groups bands of hunter gatherers grew over time into larger and more complex societies through three major transformations settlement and domestication the development of complexity and inequality and industrial globalization The book describes how each of these major changes in economy and political structure created new types of societies villages chiefdoms and other complex societies agrarian states and empires and today's global social system It therefore shows how different types of societies came to co exist and interact on Earth The book compares societies along seven aspects their economies political systems cultural patterns inequalities family structures demographics and environmental patterns It shows that even societies that shared similar basic features still exhibited great variety The comparative framework presented here helps readers develop a conceptual vocabulary for understanding societies the larger social systems within which they exist and the major social changes that led to this continuing expansion Inquiry-Based Lessons in World History Jana Kirchner, Andrew McMichael, 2021-09-03 Spanning the time period from 750 CE to the present day Inquiry Based Lessons in World History Vol 2 focuses on creating global connections between people and places using primary sources in standards based lessons With sections on the world in transition the era of revolutions imperialism and global war and the modern world this book provides teachers with inquiry based ready to use lessons that can be adapted to any classroom and that encourage students to take part in the learning process by reading and thinking like historians Each section contains chapters that correspond to the scope and sequence of most world history textbooks Each inquiry lesson begins with an essential question and connections to content and literacy standards followed by primary source excerpts or links to those sources Lessons include step by step directions incorporate a variety of literacy strategies and require students to make a hypothesis using evidence from the texts they have read Grades 7-10 Encounters Old and New in World History Alan Karras, Laura J. Mitchell, 2017-06-30 This collection of essays asserts the specific value of world history research and teaching showing how the field contributes to the larger historical profession and offering concrete suggestions to develop more interaction between the academy and the public The twelve contributors each with their own academic areas of interest are experienced scholars and classroom teachers Uniting them together in this volume is their professional relationship with Jerry H Bentley 1949-2012 This shared connection served as a catalyst to showcase Bentley's enduring legacy a commitment to investigating large scale questions with detailed empirical evidence that explains the human condition documenting both patterns of similarity and difference in ways that account for regional and temporal variations The volume continues Bentley's meticulous attention to world historical methods focus on scale cross cultural encounter comparison periodization critical geography and interdisciplinarity Encounters Old and New in World History responds to provocations that Jerry Bentley tendered in his scholarship and through his professional activities Contributors interrogate the institutional settings disciplinary proclivities methodological choices and diverse source bases of world history research and teaching Several essays address the ways in which present day concerns influence research on local and global scales Other essays pay particular attention to the production and circulation of knowledge across regional temporal and class boundaries as well as between the academy and the wider public

Claiming the centrality of globally informed and focused approaches to historical inquiry researchers continue the conversations that Bentley carried on through his own scholarship teaching editing of the Journal of World History participating in public forums and contributing to public discussions about the place of history in understanding today's global integration The stakes involved in asking questions about the shared history of humankind continue to increase in the current era of intensified globalization It is incumbent upon scholars with the skills to work across linguistic geographic temporal and disciplinary boundaries to show the ways that cross cultural encounters happened historically and to point out how such interactions play out in the institutions classrooms and public debates where historical interpretations are created and shared

Thinking of Questions Peter Limm, 2015-09-23 This is not a conventional book It is designed to stimulate and challenge all people who are curious to find out about the world they inhabit and their place within it It does this by suggesting questions and lines of questioning on a wide range of topics The book does not provide answers or model arguments but prompts people to create their own questions and a reading log or journal To this end almost all questions have a list of books or articles to provide a starter for stimulating further reading Once you start you will be hooked Never stop questioning

Historical Origins of International Criminal Law Morten Bergsmo, CHEAH Wui Ling, YI Ping, 2014-12-12 The historical origins of international criminal law go beyond the key trials of Nuremberg and Tokyo but remain a topic that has not received comprehensive and systematic treatment This anthology aims to address this lacuna by examining trials proceedings legal instruments and publications that may be said to be the building blocks of contemporary international criminal law It aspires to generate new knowledge broaden the common hinterland to international criminal law and further consolidate this relatively young discipline of international law The anthology and research project also seek to question our fundamental assumptions of international criminal law by going beyond the geographical cultural and temporal limits set by the traditional narratives of its history and by questioning the roots of its substance process and institutions Ultimately we hope to raise awareness and generate further discussion about the historical and intellectual origins of international criminal law and its social function The contributions to the three volumes of this study bring together experts with different professional and disciplinary expertise from diverse continents and legal traditions Volume 1 comprises contributions by prominent international lawyers and researchers including Judge LIU Daqun Professor David Cohen Geoffrey Robertson QC Professor Paulus Mevis and Professor Jan Reijntjes
