Merging Interests Sarah Bauerle Danzman,2019-12-19 Why do governments open their economies to multinational enterprises MNEs Some argue democratic forces promote this openness but many citizen groups view multinational business with suspicion Using quantitative and qualitative analysis Bauerle Danzman demonstrates how large domestic firms push to liberalize foreign direct investment FDI policies to ameliorate financing constraints often to the detriment of smaller competitors MNE entry comes with substantial risks such as higher labour costs and increased productivity pressures so well connected domestic firms will prefer to limit access to local markets when the costs of debt financing are relatively low However when local environments make debt financing increasingly expensive firms will be more willing to dismantle restrictive investment policies so that they may overcome liquidity constraints with equity financing from abroad Bauerle Danzman includes comparative analysis of Malaysia and Indonesia from 1965 2016 to illustrate how governments undertake investment policy reform and to indicate the interest groups that influence the outcomes of these regulatory changes Shifting Paradigms in International Investment Law Steffen Hindelang, Markus Krajewski, 2016-01-21 International investment law is in transition Whereas the prevailing mindset has always been the protection of the economic interests of individual investors new developments in international investment law have brought about a paradigm shift There is now more than ever before an interest in a more inclusive transparent and public regime Shifting Paradigms in International Investment Law addresses these changes against the background of the UNCTAD framework to reform investment treaties The book analyses how the investment treaty regime has changed and how it ought to be changing to reconcile private property interests and the state's duty to regulate in the public interest In doing so the volume tracks attempts in international investment law to recalibrate itself towards a more balanced less isolated and increasingly diversified regime The individual chapters of this edited volume address the contents of investment agreements the system of dispute settlement the interrelation of investment agreements with other areas of public international law constitutional questions and new regional perspectives from Europe South Africa the Pacific Rim Region and Latin America Together they provide an invaluable resource for scholars practitioners and policymakers The individual chapters of this edited volume address the contents of investment agreements the system of dispute settlement the interrelation of investment agreements with other areas of public international law constitutional questions and new regional perspectives from Europe South Africa the Pacific Rim Region and Latin America Together they provide an invaluable resource for scholars practitioners and policymakers International Strategy of Emerging Market Firms Andrei Panibratov, 2017-03-16 Emerging economies are expected to be in the driver's seat of the global economy in the medium and long term Large multinational corporations will account for much of this activity In this textbook Andrei Panibratov explains how emerging market firms accumulate and exploit market knowledge to develop competitive advantages whilst operating globally Chapters dedicated to the key emerging economies Brazil Russia India and China BRIC are enhanced by detailed case studies of large firms activities The book is divided into four parts focusing on the following An outline of the relevant terminology and the context of the international strategy of emerging market firms providing an introductory foundation for the whole book A guide to the evolution of perspectives regarding international strategy designed to illustrate the changes and trends in the recent academic research on internationalization A country by country illustration of the internationalization of BRIC economies and firms providing an overall picture of each country's global integration outward investments and strategies The concepts and practices behind the strategies employed by different firms Written by an established international business scholar this book is essential reading for students of international strategy who wish to understand the importance of the emerging economies How to become a distinguished international negotiator Ibrahim

H. Husney, In reality we frequently resort to negotiation sometimes multiple times a day in order to arrive at reasonable and acceptable solutions that fulfill our needs and advance our interests across various domains of life Moreover negotiation is indispensable for resolving shared conflicts that may arise for instance between labor and management unions or associations and executives husbands and wives and colleagues and companions In each scenario every party endeavors to attain the most favorable outcome and elevate their self interest with minimal exertion and strife Today it is impossible to enumerate the multitude of domains where negotiation intervenes in order to achieve desired outcomes for the parties involved Negotiation processes are a cornerstone across various industries technologies politics economics commercial deal making international conflict resolution environment society and beyond Once again it is crucial to emphasize that negotiations play a significant role in our contemporary era Undoubtedly negotiations are considered one of the techniques people resort to at the individual or institutional level to resolve disputes and arrive at satisfactory and acceptable solutions for the negotiating parties We can generalize and say that negotiation is present in all domains in contact with human private and professional life The concept of negotiation has been a tangible reality since the beginning of human existence on this planet In those early days the negotiation was utilized to peacefully resolve conflicts and reach agreements that satisfied all parties involved rather than resorting to the use of force and confrontation to settle matters The modern concepts of negotiation suggest that it is both an art and a science requiring skill and self preparation from the negotiator Negotiation processes have become deeply embedded today in many human activities as previously mentioned such as politics business administration social sciences linguistics psychology gender studies international relations and so on Research Handbook on the Belt and Road Initiative Chinyong Liow, Joseph, Liu, Hong, Xue, Gong, 2021-10-26 This timely Research Handbook investigates the radically transformative impact of the Belt and Road Initiative BRI addressing key questions regarding its economic political and strategic consequences what does the Chinese government hope to achieve with the BRI How have recipient states responded And what are its potential opportunities and risks Proportionality in Investor-State

Arbitration Gebhard Bücheler, 2015-06-11 While international investment law is one of the most dynamic and thriving fields of international law it is increasingly criticized for failing to strike a fair balance between private property rights and the public interest Proportionality is a tool to resolve conflicts between competing rights and interests This book assesses its current role its potential and its limits in investor State arbitration Proportionality is often lauded for reconciling colliding interests This book identifies three factors arbitrators should consider before engaging in a proportionality analysis the rule of law the risk of judicial law making and the availability of a value system that guides the proportionality analysis Apart from making suggestions when arbitrators should apply proportionality and when not to the book outlines what States can do to recalibrate the balance between private property rights and the public interest if they wish to do so without dismantling the current system of investor State arbitration Proportionality in Investor State Arbitration considers whether and to what extent the notion of general principles of law within the meaning of Article 38 1 c of the ICJ Statute and the concept of systemic integration enshrined in Article 31 3 c of the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties provides a valid legal foundation for applying proportionality in investor State arbitration invaluable resource for academics researchers lawyers graduate and undergraduate students studying this ever evolving field , Reconceptualizing International Investment Law from the Global South Fabio Morosini,Michelle Ratton Sanchez Badin,2017-10-26 This book shows how the current reform in investment regulation is part of a broader attempt to transform the international economic order Countries in the North and South are currently rethinking how economic order should be constituted in order to advance their national interests and preferred economic orientation While some countries in the North seek to create alternative institutional spaces in order to promote neoliberal policies more effectively some countries in the South are increasingly skeptical of this version of economic order and are experimenting with alternative versions of legal ordering that do not always sit well with mainstream versions promoted by the North While we recognize that there are differences in approaches to the investment regimes proposed by countries in the South we identify commonalities that could function as the founding pillars of an alternative economic order Trade and Labour Standards Anthony Forsyth,2018-11-21 Mega regional agreements have recently stirred controversy producing a clash between the founding principles of liberalisation and protectionism giving rise to competence issues between the European Union and its Member States Although scholarly work has focused for years on the controversial social clause it is now worth carrying out a detailed legal analysis of the labour standards contained in the mega regional trade agreements adopted and negotiated by the EU and the US The topic gives rise to much controversy as it is influenced by political convictions and election results For this reason it poses one of the most significant challenges to international labour law Based on these considerations this book examines the social dimension of three of the most relevant mega regional trade agreements namely TTP CETA and TTIP It is argued that trade liberalisation should be accompanied by progress in the social and labour field The Effect of Multinational Enterprises on Climate Change Victor Steenbergen,Abhishek Saurav,2023-08-07 Multinational enterprises MNEs provide both a fundamental risk to and an opportunity for climate change mitigation The climate ambitions of MNEs will affect the environmental performance of countries around the world As a leading actor proactive MNEs can impose sustainability standards or encourage green technology transfers that in some cases could affect millions of producers and accelerate the climate transition However obstructive MNEs may equally hold back any progress to reduce a country s emissions via inaction or by actively resisting obstructing or lobbying against change The objective of this report is to study the effect of MNEs on climate change Toward this goal the report reviews the latest available data conducts new empirical analysis and summarizes pioneering literature The report answers four key questions related to the relationship between MNEs and climate change 1 What effect do MNEs currently have on climate change both through their own activities and through the emissions of their broader supply chains 2 How do MNEs shape the potential transfer of green technologies to domestic firms and how do different types of interactions with MNEs stimulate such technology transfers 3 How committed are leading MNEs currently to transitioning their supply chains to net zero emissions by 2050 and do they have long medium and short range strategies to realize this 4 What types of policies can influence MNEs effects on climate change The World: 300 Years of Urbanization Expansion Pengfei Ni,Marco Kamiya,Jing Guo,Haidong Xu,2023-08-12 This book was jointly launched by the National Academy of Economic Strategy of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences and UN HABITAT It uses the indicator system and objective data to evaluate the competitiveness of 1006 cities in the world and measures the overall development pattern of global punishment and competitiveness The important theoretical and practical issues in the development of global cities are discussed The book looks at the world from the perspective of cities and believes that the world will be fully urbanized in the 300 years from 1750 to 2050 The book points out the challenges faced by global municipal financing and systematically summarizes the experience and methods of municipal financing and concludes that the average competitiveness of global cities declined slightly due to the decline of the average competitiveness of cities in China the USA and Europe In addition this book also launched the new global urban classification standard of the Institute of Finance and Strategy of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences and the United Nations Human Settlements Programme for the first time and rated 1006 cities in the world Small and Medium-Sized Enterprises in International Economic Law Thilo Rensmann,2017-06-09 International economic law with its traditional focus on large multinational enterprises is only slowly waking up to the new reality of small and medium sized enterprises SMEs entering the global marketplace In the wake of the digital revolution smaller companies now play an important role in the global economic landscape In 2015 the UN expressly called for SMEs to have greater access to international trade and investment and it is increasingly recognized that the integration of SMEs provides one of the keys to creating a more sustainable and inclusive global economy As SMEs increasingly permeate transnational supply chains so interactions between these companies and international economic law and policy proliferate Small and Medium sized Enterprises in International Economic Law offers the first comprehensive analysis of the interaction between SMEs and international economic law This book presents a broad international perspective gathering together contributions by leading experts from academia legal practice and international organizations It opens up a field of enquiry into this so far unexplored dynamic and provide a touchstone for future debate The analysis covers a broad spectrum of international trade and investment law focusing on issues of particular interest to SMEs such as trade in services government procurement and trade facilitation Diverse perspectives illuminate regional developments in particular within the EU and the implications of mega regional free trade agreements The essays also examine questions of legitimacy of global economic governance in particular concerns surrounding the threat posed to the interests of domestic SMEs by the growing liberalization of international trade and investment These essays constitute essential reading for practitioners and academics seeking to navigate a previously neglected trend in international economic law
