World Health Report Turkey:

The World Health Report 2005 World Health Organization, 2005-03-23 Each year almost 11 million children under five years of age die from largely preventable causes whilst about half a million women die in pregnancy childbirth or soon after This year's report focuses on maternal newborn and child health issues as an integral part of progress towards achieving the Millennium Development Goals targets and promoting poverty reduction It identifies exclusion as a key feature of inequity as well as a barrier to progress and sets out strategies required to ensure universal access to health care and social health insurance systems for every mother and child through a continuum that extends from pregnancy through childbirth the neonatal period and childhood Public Health Reports, 2007 The World Health Report 2007 World Health Organization, 2007 World Health Report 2007 discusses the challenges to global health security by the increasing and constant movement around the world of people and products It looks at the potential of new tools for collective defence particularly the revised International Health Regulations 2005 which came into force this year Significantly the revised Regulations move away from a focus on passive barriers at airports seaports and borders to a strategy of proactive risk management detecting an event early and stopping it at its source before it has a chance to become an international threat

The World Health Report 2003 World Health Organization, 2003 We have a real opportunity now to make progress that will mean longer healthier lives for millions of people The World Health Report 2006 World Health Organization, 2006-03-23 The 2006 World Health Report focuses on the chronic shortages of doctors midwives nurses and other health care support workers in the poorest countries of the world where they are most needed This is particularly true in sub Saharan Africa which has only four in every hundred global health workers but has a quarter of the global burden of disease and less than one per cent of the world's financial resources Poor working conditions high rates of attrition due to illness and migration and education systems that are unable to pick up the slack reflect the depth of the challenges in these crisis countries This report considers the challenges involved and sets out a 10 year action plan designed to tackle the crisis over the next ten years by which countries can strengthen their health system by building their health workforces and institutional capacity with the support of global partners The European Health Report 2009, 2009 This report provides member states with essential public health information It provides a picture of the health status and health determinants in the European Region and identifies areas for public health action for the member states and the European public health community The World Health Report 2001 World Health Organization, 2001 Reports on the burden of mental and behavioural disorders and the cost in human social and economic terms World mental health report World Health Organization, 2022-06-16 The World Mental Health Report Transforming Mental Health for All by the World Health Organization WHO addresses the urgent need to improve mental health care globally This comprehensive report aims to reshape attitudes and actions towards mental health emphasizing the integration of mental health into primary health care systems to achieve universal coverage It highlights the increased prevalence of mental health disorders due to the COVID 19 pandemic and identifies economic gaps and barriers in public mental health services The report advocates for the promotion of human rights social inclusion and the empowerment of individuals with lived experiences It outlines strategies for mental health promotion prevention and the restructuring of care services Designed for policymakers health professionals and global leaders the report calls for collaborative efforts to ensure mental health is valued protected and accessible to all free from stigma

Controlling Costs: Strategic Issues in Health Care Management Huw T.O. Davies,Manouche Tavakoli,2017-03-02 Controlling costs in health care is rarely something that can be tackled in isolation Cost control invariably interacts with issues of quality and health care access Thus this diverse collection of papers is concerned not just with costs but more importantly with value Both macro and micro concerns are covered At the macro level health care reforms and especially the marketisation of health care systems receive some attention Papers explore how policy prescriptions get translated and modified during implementation and assess how these prescriptions impact on both the incentive context and subsequent patterns of service delivery Resource allocation within bureaucratic health systems continues to pose problems and these too are analysed with new solutions being proposed At the micro level a number of contributors wrestle with the difficulties of carrying out the economic evaluation of new drugs and technologies In each case the wider theoretical and practical implications of balancing costs and benefits are explored This collection should prove helpful to health care policy specialists managers and researchers interested in gaining a feel for the real world application of cost focused health services research

Transforming Health in Turkey Dilek Başar, Selcen Öztürk, 2025-04-24 Turkey's Health Transformation Programme H T P has been instrumental in reshaping the country's healthcare landscape aiming at enhancing accessibility efficiency and quality of services Despite generating significant academic and policy interest there remains a gap in consolidated scholarly resources This book addresses this need synthesizing the existing research to provide a comprehensive overview and critical analysis of the H T P's impacts from multiple perspectives Structured into five main sections the book delves into the H T P's policy changes theoretical framework and intended outcomes since its inception in 2003 It then assesses its effects through various lenses From the government's strategic planning and economic considerations to healthcare providers experiences and institutional dynamics and finally from the users perspective evaluating access quality and social implications Additionally a comparative analysis with similar reforms worldwide offers lessons and future directions Targeting academics healthcare professionals policymakers and students interested in health economics and policy analysis this book aims to fill a critical gap in the literature providing insights for ongoing and future reforms not only in Turkey but also in comparable global contexts Dr Dilek Başar received a bachelor's degree in economics from Hacettepe University Ankara Turkey in 2006 and was awarded a master's degree in economics by Hacettepe University in 2008 She received a Doctor of Philosophy degree in economics from the University of Sheffield in 2012 Her field of interests include health economics labour economics and gender economics Dr Başar is currently Professor at Hacettepe University Ankara Turkey Dr Başar is on the board for Hacettepe University Health Economics and Health Policy Research and Application Center Dr Selcen Öztürk completed her undergraduate education at Gazi University Department of Economics in 2006 and her master's degree at Hacettepe University Department of Economics in 2008 Dr Öztürk completed her Ph D in the field of Economics at the University of Sheffield in 2012 Since 2012 she has been working at Hacettepe University where her field of interests include gender economics regional economics labour economics and health economics Dr Öztürk is currently a professor at Hacettepe University Ankara Turkey Dr Öztürk is on the board for Hacettepe University Health Economics and Health Policy Research and Application Center

The Politics of Healthcare Reform in Turkey Volkan Yilmaz, 2017-06-21 This book explores the transformation in the healthcare system in Turkey since 2003 which has been portrayed as a benchmark for building universal healthcare systems in emerging market economies Focussing on healthcare politics in an under researched developing country context it fills a significant lacuna in existing scholarship This study answers these questions What were the political dynamics that enabled the introduction of healthcare reform in Turkey What political conflicts did the reform generate How and to whose benefit have these conflicts been resolved Drawing on qualitative interviews with a diverse set of actors Y lmaz explores the actors subjective interpretations of the reform the discourses and strategies they used to influence the reform and the changing healthcare politics scene He demonstrates that the reform has been a complex political process within which actors negotiated whether and to what extent healthcare remains a citizenship right or a commodity This book will appeal to students and scholars of social policy politics health policy public health and sociology

Equity and Healthcare Reform in Developing Economies Songül Çınaroğlu,2020-10-29 Ensuring equity in healthcare is the main concern of health policymakers in order to provide a sustainable health system This concern is more prominent in developing countries due to the scarcity of resources This book provides a comprehensive analysis and discussion on the distributive pattern of out of pocket pharmaceutical expenditures under the health reforms in Turkey and makes comparisons with pharmerging countries Turkey s health reforms began in 2003 to address shortcomings related to financial protection and to improve health outcomes and the quality of healthcare services The primary motivation was to ensure equity in the distribution of health resources and this transformation process led to profound changes in how these resources were used and in health financing in general However there is a lack of knowledge regarding the long term effect of health reforms on the distribution patterns of health expenditures and health service use This book offers a thorough equity analysis of the health financing system affected by this health transformation program Index and curve approaches are used in the equity analysis of pharmaceutical expenditures The book examines the long term effects of health system regulations on the health spending characteristics of households and improves the current understanding of equity in this context It includes extensive international comparisons of healthcare services across a range of developing countries and highlights the significance of ensuring equity for emerging economies The author explores the existing evidence as well as future research directions and provides policy and planning advice for health policymakers to contribute to establishing a more equal health system design Additionally the book will be of interest to scholars and professionals in the fields of health economics public health management and health financing
