Barbery's new richly imagined novel the sequel to The Life of Elves will transport readers to a lost world exposed to the constant churn of civilizations and remind them of the power of poetry and imagination Stupidity and Psychoanalysis

Cindy Zeiher, 2024-12-31 There is nothing new in thinking that we live in stupid times. Many past thinkers thought about stupidity as a symptom; however, Lacan considered stupidity as immune to the influence of psychoanalysis, saying about himself, "I am only relatively stupid," that is to say, I am as stupid as all people perhaps because I got a little bit enlightened. Here it seems that stupidity signifies and is signified by the absence of any coherent foundation in desire and lack but instead emanates from the will to jouissance. Here stupidity is inescapable whether it be individual, communal, or ideological. In Stupidity and Psychoanalysis, chapters by internationally respected Lacanian analysts and theoreticians think about how we can understand stupidity as a specific psychoanalytic encounter. This collection draws critical Lacanian attention to considering new ways to approach stupidity and stupor as new contemporary subjective and social forms. Contributors provide various insights into how stupidity might be rethought as contemporary signifiers whose importance lies for better or worse more in producing effect than in transmitting meaning. Contributors: Giole P. Cima, Christian Ingo Lenz, Dunker David Ferraro, Luis Izco, Adrian Johnston, James Martell, Jean Michel Rabate, Samo Tomsic, Antonio Viselli, and Cindy Zeiher.

The Europa Editions Summer Reading Sampler Various, 2012-07-10 Compiled here are excerpts from some of Europa Editions' most exciting, entertaining, and bestselling titles. From uproarious comic fiction to gripping historical crime novels, each one of these engaging and thought-provoking books has been selected as perfect for summer reads. In addition, each section in this sampler is supplemented with an author's biography, selected reviews, and other fun and informative tidbits linked to each book. Europa Editions titles are available everywhere books are sold. Excerpts from The Elegance of the Hedgehog, Old Filth, Cooking with Fernet, Branca Zulu, French Leave, The Most Beautiful Book in the World, The Angry Buddhist, Pure. A Single Rose Muriel Barbery, 2021-09-28 A magnificent romance redolent of ancient wisdom and rich with melancholy, loss, and love from the bestselling author of The Elegance of the Hedgehog. Le Monde: Rose has just turned forty when she gets a call from a lawyer asking her to come to Kyoto for the reading of her estranged father's will. And so for the first time in her life, she finds herself in Japan where Paul, her father's assistant, is waiting to greet her. As Paul guides Rose along a mysterious itinerary designed by her deceased father, her bitterness and anger are soothed by the stones and the trees in the Zen gardens they move through. During their walks, Rose encounters acquaintances of her father, including a potter and poet, an old lady friend, his housekeeper, and chauffeur whose interactions help her to slowly begin to accept a part of herself that she has never before acknowledged. As the reading of the will gets closer, Rose's father finally posthumously opens his heart to his daughter, offering her a poignant understanding of his love and a way to accept all she has lost. Interspersed with aphoristic Japanese tales from various periods, as melancholy is gradually transmuted into joy. The New Yorker: A luminous meditation on grief. Booklist: With elegant and careful prose, Barbery offers descriptions of Kyoto and

Japanese culture that transcend the genre of a travelogue This novel will appeal to readers who long for happy endings and escape Library Journal The novel balances lush cultivated gardens and weighted symbolism with mischievous foxes matcha sliced eel and sushi all forming one happy chaos and a fascinating maze of emotional release Foreword Reviews

Authoring the Dialogic Self Gergana Vitanova,2010 This book offers a truly interdisciplinary perspective on key socio cultural aspects of second language learning Building on Bakhtin s philosophy of language and the self it examines the complex intersections among gender culture and agency in the everyday discursive practices of immigrants Bakhtin s dialogic framework still remains on the periphery of second language acquisition research The book embraces not only Bakhtin s well known notion of dialogue but also his core concepts of responsibility and ethics in the analysis of immigrants narrative samples The significance of narratives is underscored throughout the book and a dialogic discourse centered approach to narrative as a genre is suggested Authoring the Dialogical Self targets a range of disciplines Scholars in applied linguistics narrative studies cultural psychology and communication studies will find the discussed concepts relevant The rich data samples and detailed analysis make the book appropriate for graduate courses in TESOL language and identity or language and gender

Lost in Thought Zena Hitz,2021-08-24 An invitation to readers from every walk of life to rediscover the impractical splendors of a life of learning In an overloaded superficial technological world in which almost everything and everybody is judged by its usefulness where can we turn for escape lasting pleasure contemplation or connection to others While many forms of leisure meet these needs Zena Hitz writes few experiences are so fulfilling as the inner life whether that of a bookworm an amateur astronomer a birdwatcher or someone who takes a deep interest in one of countless other subjects Drawing on inspiring examples from Socrates and Augustine to Malcolm X and Elena Ferrante and from films to Hitz s own experiences as someone who walked away from elite university life in search of greater fulfillment Lost in Thought is a passionate and timely reminder that a rich life is a life rich in thought Today when even the humanities are often defended only for their economic or political usefulness Hitz says our intellectual lives are valuable not despite but because of their practical uselessness And while anyone can have an intellectual life she encourages academics in particular to get back in touch with the desire to learn for its own sake and calls on universities to return to the person to person transmission of the habits of mind and heart that bring out the best in us Reminding us of who we once were and who we might become Lost in Thought is a moving account of why renewing our inner lives is fundamental to preserving our humanity

Constructive Resistance Mona Lilja, 2021-02-05 This book examines constructive resistance practices that range from street protests to the use of photographic images and displays their role in local and global political processes By building on a rich selection of interview material and other empirical research the book elaborates on different cases of constructive resistance where close attention is paid to the productive qualities that are involved It offers new perspectives on the undertakings of different epistemic battles that occur around current issues such as gender nationalism climate change migration and the right to land and explores personal narratives artistic expressions and public statements that are utilized as means of resistance and performed in order to negotiate different established truths More specifically the book discusses the discursive struggles regarding migrant bodies where artifacts that pertain to the hardship are presented in Swedish museums the Preah Vihear temple conflict between Cambodia and Thailand the border conflict in West Sahara the self making of self defined women politicians in Cambodia and climate activism communication Through discussions on the importance of figurations posters narratives photographs artifacts and buildings in the establishing of contemporary discussions and world views the book inquires how and why these representations are re imparted with meaning and the effect that this has The book does not only illustrate different forms of resistance but also contributes theoretically to our understanding of repetitions emotions and time which are properties that must be embarked upon in order to capture the various dimension of resistance Given that the type of constructive resistance that is expanded upon is about processes of significations the time aspect how alternative truths are repeated and thereby established over time becomes crucial And resistance has a temporality of its own for example close authorities are instantly resisted here and now while meaning making resistance suffers from the inescapable time lag of processes of signification In all forms of resistance emotions prevail as an important engine of political struggles and as is displayed in this book emotions are an important means of constructive resistance
