Marriages and Families Constance L. Shehan, 2003 A realistic fact based survey of marriage intimacy and family life that offers many insights and addresses many misconceptions about modern families in all their variety

America's History Through Young

Voices Richard M. Wyman, 2005 America's History through Young Voices contains primary sources written by young people from twelve periods of American history. The history presented here is of ordinary people, not that of empire builders, kings, and presidents. The diaries, letters, and essays are narratives, thus engaging students in the story of history. Specific instructional strategies were developed for each of the primary sources based upon the five categories of historical thinking skills. Teachers thus have both the primary source content and instructional activities skills for use in the classroom. Chapter One presents a general introduction to historical sources. This book is intended for teachers and students in elementary, middle, or secondary social studies who wish to emphasize the teaching and learning of American history using primary sources.

The Media of Mass Communication John Vivian, 2007. This 30th jubilee volume 2010 of Palaeoecology of Africa looks back and reflects the state of the art of what is actually known on former African climates and ecosystems in the format of review articles authored by specialists in the field. New research articles on climate and ecosystem dynamics as well as applied topics on geomorphic hazards and future environmental trends in Africa are included. This book will be of interest to all concerned with ecosystems dynamics, tropical forests, savannahs, deserts, and related development problems of third world countries, especially ecologists, botanists, earth scientists, e.g. Quaternary and recent climate change regional planners. It will also be valuable for advanced undergraduates and postgraduates as a reference for review and overview articles as well as a source of information for new original manuscripts and reviews on the state of the art of long term and Quaternary and Holocene landscape evolution, esp. in sub-Saharan Africa. Palaeobotanists, Palynologists, and Quaternarists will equally find this edition useful for their work.

Learning and Leading with Technology, 2005

The American People Gary B. Nash, Julie Roy Jeffrey, 2006. Providing students with a thought provoking account of America's past. The American People examines how American society assumed its present shape and developed its present forms of government. A strong social emphasis underscores the humanness of America's history as revealed through the everyday lives of ordinary Americans. In addition, Recovering the Past essays acquaint students with the work that historians do by introducing them to the fascinating variety of materials that historians use to understand and interpret the past. Two new primary source features, American Voices and How Others See Us, enliven the narrative with short passages from both ordinary and extraordinary Americans or from outsiders commenting on the American nation or its people. For anyone interested in a survey of United States History.

The West Brian P. Levack, Michael Maas, Edward Muir, Meredith Veldman, 2004. The West: Encounters and Transformations takes a new approach to telling the story of Western Civilization. Rather than looking at Western Civilization only as the history of Europe from ancient times to the present, this groundbreaking book examines the changing nature of the West: how the definition of the West has evolved and transformed throughout history. It explores the ways Western civilization has changed as a result of cultural encounters with different beliefs, ideas, technologies, and peoples both outside the West and within it. Presenting a balanced treatment of political, social, religious, and cultural history, this new text emphasizes the ever shifting boundaries of the geographic and cultural realm of the West with special attention given to Eastern Europe and the Muslim world Africa Asia and the Americas      TechTactics Carolyn Thorsen,2003 This book describes the major educational computer applications and provides methods for using computer tools effectively in the teaching learning process The author focuses on the word processor database spreadsheet Internet and hypermedia software tools that all classrooms with computers have The book is independent of hardware x equally applicable to Macs or PCs x and speaks to methods that apply across grade levels and disciplines The book has been extensively class tested and written with a view of what will work for teachers Many helpful models lesson plans skill x building tips and activities are included to allow students to pick up this book and put it to use in the classroom right away For anyone interested in computer education computer based instructional design professional development seminars      The William and Mary Quarterly ,2003

History of the Theatre Oscar Gross Brockett, Franklin Joseph Hildy,2003 Chronicles the evolution of the theater from its beginnings to the early twenty first century covering styles creative and technical elements and the theater s impact on society and culture Focuses largely on Europe and the U S but also discusses Africa Asia Latin America Canada Australia and New Zealand      Crash Course World History II Roger Morante,2020-12 This book effectively translates author John Green s YouTube video sensation of World History II Crash Courses into guided question worksheets Students follow along with John Green s online Crash Courses and reflect upon events inside of world history using this interactive guiding question workbook Common Core World History standards are followed in all questions asked helping students tap into level 3 and 4 DOK Depth of Knowledge thinking skills surrounding events that have occurred throughout world history Any student of world history wishing to pass both a high school AP world history class or a college level world history course would find this workbook useful Crash Course World History II differs from Crash Course World History I as it focuses on the thematic relationship between events in world history throughout time This book can be used in concordance with both high school and college world history classes in order to improve test scores content understanding and essay structure in writing

North American Churches and the Cold War Paul B. Mojzes,2018-08-23 History textbooks typically list 1945 1990 as the Cold War years but it is clear that tensions from that period are still influencing world politics today While much attention is given to political and social responses to those first nuclear threats none has been given to the reactions of Christian churches North American Churches and the Cold War offers the first systematic reflection on the diverse responses of Canadian and American churches to potential nuclear disaster A mix of scholars and church leaders the contributors analyze the anxieties dilemmas and hopes that Christian churches felt as World War II gave way to the nuclear age As they faced either nuclear annihilation or peaceful reconciliation Christians were forced to take stands on such issues as war communism and their relationship to Christians in Eastern Europe As we continue to navigate the nuclear era this book provides insight into Chris tian responses to future adversities and conflicts CONTRIBUTORS William Alexander Blaikie
