

The background of the entire cover is a high-contrast, sepia-toned photograph of a rugged mountain landscape. A massive, dark rock formation dominates the right side, sloping steeply upwards. At the very top of this formation, two small figures of people are visible, standing on a narrow ledge. The rest of the mountain face is covered in lighter-colored, textured rock and snow, with deep shadows and highlights that emphasize its craggy texture.

James Salter Jeffrey Meyers, 2024-02-07 Biographer and critic Jeffrey Meyers knew the novelist James Salter 1925-2015 during the last decade of his life; he visited him twice on Long Island and received eighty letters from him. Meyers's knowledge of Salter's life provides many new insights about the personal, literary, and historical background of his work. This appreciative book, the first full-length study in twenty-six years, is intended to introduce Salter to new readers and show his achievement as a writer of novels, stories, screenplays, memoirs, and travel essays. Salter had an extraordinary range of experience as West Point graduate, fighter pilot in the Korean War, downhill skier, rock climber, and mountain climber, screenwriter, and film director; connoisseur of food and wine, world traveler, and sophisticated observer. In an elegant blend of literary criticism and intimate memoir with crisp prose and an eye for telling detail, Meyers discusses Salter's family and friends, the significance of his book and chapter titles, characters' names, and cultural allusions, literary influences, especially Ernest Hemingway and F. Scott Fitzgerald, development of his fictional style and techniques, awareness of weather and light, supreme delineation of sexual ecstasy, recurrent themes of war and love, strange career, and late recognition. A detailed

The Accidental Life Terry McDonell, 2017-07-11. An Amazon Best Book of 2016. A celebration of the writing and editing life as well as a look behind the scenes at some of the most influential magazines in America and the writers who made them what they are. You might not know Terry McDonell, but you certainly know his work. Among the magazines he has top edited: Outside, Rolling Stone, Esquire, and Sports Illustrated. In this revealing memoir, McDonell talks about what really happens when editors and writers work with deadlines ticking or drinks on the bar. His stories about the people and personalities he's known are both heartbreaking and bitingly funny: playing acid golf with Hunter S. Thompson, practicing brinksmanship with David Carr, and Steve Jobs working the European fashion scene with Liz Tilberis, pitching TV pilots with Richard Price. Here too is an expert's practical advice on how to recruit and keep high-profile talent, what makes a compelling lede, how to grow online traffic that translates into dollars, and how, in whatever format on whatever platform, a good editor really works and what it takes to write well. Taking us from the raucous days of New Journalism to today's digital landscape, McDonell argues that the need for clear storytelling from trustworthy news sources has never been stronger. Says Jeffrey Eugenides: "Every time I run into Terry, I think how great it would be to have dinner with him. Hear about the writers he's known and edited over the years, what the magazine business was like back then, how it's changed, and where it's going." Inside info about Edward Abbey, Jim Harrison, Annie Proulx, old New York, and the Swimsuit issue. That dinner is this book.
