The CAV conferences are devoted to the advancement of the theory and practice of formal methods for hardware and software verification. The conference covers the spectrum from theoretical foundations to concrete applications with an emphasis on verification algorithms, methods, and tools together with techniques for their implementation. The conference has traditionally drawn contributions from both researchers and practitioners in academia and industry. This year 91 regular research papers were submitted out of which 35 were accepted while 14 brief tool papers were submitted out of which 9 were accepted for presentation. CAV included two invited talks and a panel discussion. CAV also included a tutorial day with two invited tutorials. Many industrial companies have shown a serious interest in CAV ranging from using the presented technologies in their business to developing and marketing their own formal verification tools. Non-Target Effects of Pesticides on Organisms Inhabiting Agroecosystems Johann G. Zaller, Carsten A. Brühl, 2019-10-17 Pesticide usage is increasing worldwide and considered among the main factors contributing to the global decline in biodiversity. This Research Topic provides an overview of the state of knowledge regarding non-target effects of herbicides, fungicides, insecticides, and rodenticides on a variety of ecosystem functions and organisms. Taxa covered in the contributions include algae, amphibians, aquatic fungi, aquatic insects, bats, bumblebees, butterflies, earthworms, enchytraeids, honeybees, plants, rodents, and soil microorganisms. The papers also highlight many gaps in our understanding of non-target effects of pesticides and their consequences for biodiversity and functions of various ecosystems. Overall, it became clear that priorities for future work on pesticides and their effects should more focus on investigating or simulating realistic field situations, i.e. multiple applications of pesticides during the growing season, including their temporal and spatial interactions with fauna and flora.

Deep Learning for Marine Science Haiyong Zheng, Mark C. Benfield, Hongsheng Bi, Xuemin Cheng, 2024-05-15 Deep learning (DL) mainly composed of deep and complex neural networks such as recurrent network and convolutional network is an emerging research branch in the field of artificial intelligence and machine learning. DL revolution has a far-reaching impact on all scientific disciplines and every corner of our lives. With continuing technological advances, marine science is entering into the big data era with the exponential growth of information. DL is an effective means of harnessing the power of big data. Combined with unprecedented data from cameras, acoustic recorders, satellite remote sensing, and large model outputs, DL enables scientists to solve complex problems in biology, ecosystems, climate, energy, as well as physical and chemical interactions. Although DL has made great strides, it is still only beginning to emerge in many fields of marine science especially towards representative applications and best practices for the automatic analysis of marine organisms and marine environments DL in nowadays marine science mainly leverages cutting edge techniques of deep neural networks and massive data which collected by in situ optical or acoustic imaging sensors for underwater applications such as plankton classification and coral reef detection This research topic aims to expand the applications of marine science to cover all aspects of detection classification segmentation localization and density estimation of marine objects organisms and phenomena
