Edwards, 1971 The House of Mirth Annotated Edith Wharton, 2021-05 The House of Mirth is a 1905 novel by the American author Edith Wharton It tells the story of Lily Bart a well born but impoverished woman belonging to New York City's high society around the turn of the last century a Wharton creates a portrait of a stunning beauty who though raised and educated to marry well both socially and economically is reaching her 29th year an age when her youthful blush is drawing to a close and her marital prospects are becoming ever more limited The House of Mirth traces Lily's slow two year social descent from privilege to a tragically lonely existence on the margins of society In the words of one scholar Wharton uses Lily as an attack on an irresponsible grasping and morally corrupt upper class The House of Mirth Edith Wharton, 2002 First published in 1905 the House of Mirth portrays the moral social and economic constraints on a woman who dared to claim the privileges of marriage without assuming the responsibilities

The House of Mirth: (Annotated Edition) Edith Wharton, 2021-06-07 Set among New York City's high society at the turn of the twentieth century famed American author Edith Wharton's novel The House of Mirth 1905 follows twenty nine year old Lily Bart a beautiful but impoverished young woman whose social exclusion and decreasing marital prospects lead her to a life of misery and loneliness during a two year period Although Lily realizes she must marry a wealthy man to be happy her indiscretions gambling debts and constant social mishaps lead to quite the opposite Prior to publication the novel was serialized in Scribner's Magazine in January 1905 and would go on to solidify Wharton's standing as a major commercial novelist The House of Mirth has been adapted to the stage radio TV and cinema most recently in 2000 by English film director Terence Davies Narrated in the third person omniscient perspective the story begins in New York City in the late 1800s Lily Bart is a gorgeous but poor twenty nine year old socialite poised to marry a rich bachelor Lily's primary suitor is Percy Gryce whom she contrives to accidentally meet onboard a train While visiting the affluent Judy and Gus Trenor Lily is afforded the chance to converse with Percy But Lily is distracted by Lawrence Selden a young lawyer with a modest income Despite his low financial standing Selden appears to be Lily's perfect match Complicating matters are George and Bertha Dorset another wealthy couple attending the Trenor house Bertha once had a romantic tryst with Selden and is now jealous that Selden is courting Lily When Bertha informs Percy that Lily is flirting with Selden Percy is scared away Determined to win back her potential groom Lily must remain patient when she learns Percy has already engaged another woman With her parents deceased Lily lives in poverty despite staying with her wealthy aunt Julia Desperate for quick cash Lily asks Gus Trenor to invest money in the stock market on her behalf Gus agrees and soon Lily enjoys a steady cash flow Soon after Lily is romanced by Simon Rosedale an extremely wealthy socialite who uses his vast fortune to disband the social circles Lily often frequents Still Lily snubs Simon's advances Later a charwoman housecleaner who once witnessed Lily consorting with Selden visits Lily with a stack of love letters she took from Selden's trashcan Upon reading them Lily realizes the letters were not written to her as the charwoman believed but were instead written by Bertha to Selden Lily purchases the letters and safely stores them away knowing she has physical proof of the affair One evening Lily receives an invitation to visit Judy When she arrives at the Trenor's Lily finds only Gus present This compromises Lily's status as it appears she is keeping company with Gus at odd hours of the night When Lily retreats Gus informs her that the money Lily thought she had earned in the stock market was really a gift from Gus's own bank account As such Gus demands to be reimbursed with sex which terrifies Lily and forces her to flee the house When Selden decides he loves Lily enough to marry her he begins carefully wording his proposal As he prepares Selden spots Lily running out of Gus's house which incenses him so much that he immediately flees to Europe The following day Lily rejects Simon Rosedale's marriage proposal Not long after Lily receives an invitation to join George and Bertha on a Mediterranean cruise En route to Europe it becomes clear that Bertha only invited Lily on the cruise to distract George away from discovering a tryst Bertha is having with young Ned Silverton When Bertha stays out all night with Ned she deflects the optics of her affair by blaming Lily for seducing George instead Bertha publicly scorns Lily Selden arrives in the Mediterranean to console Lily but it's too late at that season If she had appeared to be catching a train he might have inferred that he had come on her in the act of transition between one and another of the country houses which disputed her presence after the close of the Newport season but her desultory air perplexed him She stood apart from the crowd letting it drift by her to the platform or the street and wearing an air of irresolution which might as he surmised be the mask of a very definite purpose It struck him at once that she was waiting for some one but he hardly knew why the idea arrested him There was nothing new about Lily Bart yet he could never see her without a faint movement of interest it was characteristic of her that she always roused speculation that her simplest acts seemed the result of far reaching intentions An impulse of curiosity made him turn out of his direct line to the door and stroll past her He knew that if she did not wish to be seen she would contrive to elude him and it amused him to think of putting her skill to the test Mr Selden what good luck She came forward smiling eager almost in her resolve to intercept him One or two persons in brushing past them lingered to look for Miss Bart was a figure to arrest even the suburban traveller rushing to his last train Selden had never seen her more radiant Her vivid head relieved against the dull tints of the crowd made her more conspicuous than in a ball room and under her dark hat and veil she regained the girlish smoothness the purity of tint that she was beginning to lose after eleven years of late hours and indefatigable dancing Was it really eleven years Selden found himself wondering and had she indeed reached the nine and twentieth birthday with which her rivals credited her What luck she repeated How nice of you to come to my rescue He responded joyfully that to do so was his mission in life and asked what form the rescue was to take Oh almost any even to sitting on a bench and talking to me One sits out a cotillion why not sit out a train It isn t a bit hotter here than in Mrs Van Osburgh s conservatory and some of the women are not a bit uglier She broke off laughing to explain that she had come up to town from Tuxedo on her way to the Gus Trenors at Bellomont and had missed the three fifteen train to Rhinebeck And there isn t another till half past five She consulted the little jewelled watch among her laces Just two hours to wait And I don t know what to do with myself My maid came up this morning to do some shopping for me and was to go on to Bellomont at one o clock and my aunt s house is closed and I don t know a soul in town She glanced plaintively about the station It IS hotter than Mrs Van Osburgh s after all If you can spare the time do take me somewhere for a breath of air He declared himself entirely at her disposal the adventure struck him as diverting As a spectator he had always enjoyed Lily Bart and his course lay so far out of her orbit that it amused him to be drawn for a moment into the sudden intimacy which her proposal implied Shall we go over to Sherry s for a cup of tea She smiled assentingly and then made a slight grimace So many people come up to town on a Monday one is sure to meet a lot of bores I m as old as the hills of course and it ought not to make any difference but if I M old enough you re not she objected gaily I m dying for tea but isn t there a quieter place He answered her smile which rested on him vividly Her discretions interested him almost as much as her imprudences he was so sure that both were part of the same carefully elaborated plan
