The movie “Tomorrow When The War Began” teaches us about real life and often give us relevant life lessons. The film “Tomorrow When The War Began” (2010) directed by Stuart Beattie is set in a small Australian town. When avading force rob people of their innocence and freedom. A group of teenagers remains free and fight to save their friends, family and town. Stuart Beattie uses his film to show the important idea that your life could change in a moment, that in demanding situations you need to grow up quickly and that family and friends are important.

Firstly, one important idea in “Tomorrow When The War Began” is that your life can change in a moment. This idea shows in the sequences when Ellie and her friends return to town and find out that they became trapped into a war. The viewers see the low angle of Ellie fall down next to her dog and the close up and point of view of the death of Ellie’s dog, now make the viewers feel something unpredictable is happening. It’s also shown in the scene when Ellie and her friends sat around the fire camp at the night before. The long shot of Ellie and her friends cheers and laugh mirthfully. The atmosphere is so peaceful and euphoric that make the viewers had no idea what will happen next or had not expected they would be in danger. The viewers also hear the dramatic sound and drumming sound when Ellie finds out her dog died and everyone in town is missing. This shows the idea that life is full of surprises, you can not predict what will happen next to you, even if it’s the craziest thing and illogically. Like the night before they returned to town, they just like other teenagers, innocence and thought they have been protected by the government. They just soak up the peaceful atmosphere and have no idea what will happen to them. This idea is relevant to my life because life isn’t as safe and easy as we think. Before the incident, their life is so peaceful but after one night, everything had changed. Sometimes, we have to deal with unexpected situations.

Advani, 2014-06-02 As I reminisced about my 1940's childhood days in Jiribam a remote place in the state of Manipur in North East India I couldn't help but scribble all the memories which came flashing back to me like waves on the ocean I have written about those memories in stories in poems and in letter form to my nephew Gojen Some of the names in my stories are fictitious as I reconstruct the stories which I heard from my father and Uncle Chandrahas Also I have included my journal entries since the time I had moved to Canada and later to USA revealing the trials and tribulations I had experienced during that time Also writing is healing no doubt Whatever the resentments I had accumulated during my growing up days about my father or any other individual is now gone permanently from my mind and I am at peace In fact I see the positive sides of all the persons concerned Hence I would like to encourage others who are in similar situations to write and enjoy the healing process Looking Through the Fog Folo Patterson, 2020-08-26 Have you ever felt lost off track out of alignment or as if something is missing You are more than likely standing in the middle of the fog and don't realize it The author shares his awakening to the density of fog he existed in and how life has never been the same since MEDIEVAL Dallas S.

Paskell, 2014-06-26 Taj Odin Xavier returns home to find his father dead and his king ready to surrender the key to the city state he's always called home His friends are all dead But remnants from his travels and things found and earned along the way push the renegade army threatening Eternis to decimation After saving the city from capture Taj turns his aggression towards the city that let his father down the same man that spent a lifetime serving it He cast down the churches of all faiths save those of Draconic origin He allows the Draconic Order to remain prevalent in the city due to it being the dragons that come down to help him After he focuses his newfound aggression towards the Republic of New Magic more specifically Marko Kane the killer of King Gerear's eldest son Taj tries to utilize what heart he has left to rekindle the romance between him and Destiny but an act he deems as betrayal is too much for him With Destiny forcing him to stay out of it he orders a newfound ally to execute the culprit With matters settled in Eternis he and his new allies set sail for the Republic of New Magic Runethedian s first outpost against the unending ships and armies of the New Threat sometimes called the Northern Threat At first he plans only to stay long enough to avenge his king s eldest son But then the war begins to consume him and the things the Father Vampire left inside him begin to writhe in his chest once again This proves to Taj he s not fully gone But those powers prove useful in the fight against the New Threat In the end he ultimately decides to sail to the heart of the beast in hopes of either securing a truce or ending its life With every passing day Taj Odin Xavier loses more of his humanity Will any of it remain once the war against the New Threat is over That is assuming he lives of course Gentlemen

Merchants Philip N. Racine, 2008 Gentlemen Merchants preserves the correspondence between members of two wealthy slaveholding merchant families the Gourdins and the Youngs in nineteenth century Charleston South Carolina Because the correspondence lasts over forty years the letters provide a significant record of historical Southern themes Plantation born urban dwellers the correspondents comment deeply and widely on their own family history religion in the South slavery and race business secession Civil War and Reconstruction Gentlemen Merchants offers a fresh perspective on the Old South s elite slaveholders from the vantage point of commercial offices docks and wharves instead of the rural plantation These prominent Charleston families grew wealthy through commercial trading of Sea Island and upland cotton rice and wine Charleston emerges as a main character in these letters as the discrepancy between the wealthy upper class and working class immigrants becomes more pronounced There are also letters from family members who traveled widely for business and pleasure They recount travel adventures in England and France on the slopes of Mount Vesuvius and at Niagara Falls The Gourdins and Youngs lived in material comfort for over three decades and fought to preserve their way of life the basis of which was made possible by slavery The family was one shaped by privilege and destroyed by war When the world changed as a result of the Civil War the family members were left penniless It is unusual that both sides of this correspondence have survived making this collection an extraordinary primary source for historical research Historically minded general readers will also enjoy the perspective on the urban South that these letters provide Philip N Racine published numerous articles and books about southern history including Piedmont Farmer He is currently the William R Kenan Professor of History at Wofford College where he has taught since 1969
