Tales Of The 319th:

Tales of The 319th Joseph W. Connaughton, 2014-12 Men of Courage are not built on brash talk They are built by shared confrontation of fear and challenge These are the men of the 319th Bomb Group soldiers who fought in Africa Europe and the Pacific against all three Axis powers Their chronicler Joseph W Joe Connaughton was a young man who dreamed of flying as the dark clouds of war touched the shores of America Those dreams brought him from college life in Tuscaloosa Alabama to the Army Air Corps in Roswell and the aircrew culture he grew to love He graduated an officer from the Army s bombardier training and was ordered to Sardinia where he arrived in May of 1944 for posting with the 319th which had already earned a reputation for daring raids and accurate bombing Along with his fellow aviators the author s journey to and with the 319th Bomb Group was a mutual journey of indelible experiences that enriched not only their bond but also the future with their families and professions Tales of the 319th is a series of chronological stories based on interviews of the men who survived as well as those of the author The Tales reveal their beginning as well as the sacrifices and trials that hardened these men of the air and brought about their ultimate success Experience their journey through the vivid description of battle and the revelry and strength of camaraderie What emerges is a ringing endorsement of the intelligence perseverance and yes courage of these men of what many view as the finest generation Included in this memoir are numerous photos and maps to bring a greater understanding of not only the emotions of these young men and their leaders but also the background canvas of military strategy and information necessary to tell the tales Among the many luminaries of this famous group were one of the original Mercury 7 astronauts Donald Deke Slayton a good friend of Joe s their respected commander and later four star Air Force General Randall Randy Holzapple and pioneering television moderator for CBS Meet the Press William Monroe Redlands in World War I Ann Cordy Deegan, Maria Carrillo Colato, Nathan D.

Gonzales, Don McCue, 2017-02-06 Upon declaration of war on April 6 1917 Redlands mobilized immediately The local National Guard Company G departed on April 4 to Arcadia and quickly relocated to San Diego Residents worked to establish a chapter of the American Red Cross and formed war committees through the YMCA YWCA and Salvation Army Thousands of residents pulled together to serve the war at home donating their time and orchestrating bond drives More than eight hundred locals served in the military and Redlanders could be found fighting in every major battle involving American troops Thirty nine men and one woman made the ultimate sacrifice This book commemorates the community s perseverance and sacrifices during the Great War United States Air Force and Its Antecedents James T. Controvich, Martin

Gordon, 2004-06-24 This expanded and revised edition of the bibliography originally compiled for the United States Air Force Historical Research Agency is the most comprehensive listing of unofficial published histories of the United States Air Force and its antecedents It covers the air force from its genesis as the US Army Signal Corps Aviation Section to the present These titles are a rich source of information for anyone interested in the history of combat and peacetime operations of the Air Force Researchers and libraries will find the organization of titles easy to use Entries include private sponsored or unofficial histories often written by the unit historian personal narratives purely photographic or pictorial histories route of battle maps published or printed rosters officially produced titles This is an indispensable resource for military aviation historians libraries with strong collections in military and air force history and unit history collectors It is also of special interest to genealogists as many unit histories contain rosters and photos of personnel World War I Army Training by San Francisco Bay Barbara Wilcox,2016-01-11 In 1917 Stanford University leased a portion of its land to allow the creation of Camp Fremont headquartered in present day Menlo Park That brought the war into the Bay Area s backyard Soldiers received a welcome reception and locals embraced the potential economic opportunities However the military presence also revealed the conflict Americans felt over the war Residents threatened conscientious objectors within their community while the government mollified fears of the vice that often followed troops in training Armistice came earlier than expected and many soldiers trained for combat they never saw But all contributed to the growth and change that arrived with the modern era Author Barbara Wilcox tells Camp Fremont s story of adaptability bravery and extraordinary accomplishment during the Great War The True Story of Catch-22 Patricia Chapman Meder,2012-08-21 The real life companion to the literary classic written and illustrated by the daughter of the 340th Bomb Group s commander Catch 22 s Col Cathcart After the publication of his bestselling novel Catch 22 Joseph Heller usually chose to deny that any of his richly drawn characters were based on his actual war mates However to those who served with Heller in the 340th Bomb Group the novel s characters were indeed recognizable the hard drinking vengeful and disillusioned Chief White Halfoat young sliced in half Kid Sampson shrieking frenzied Hungry Joe Col Cathcart Gen Dreedle Yossarian and that capitalist supreme Milo Minderbinder In this book written and colorfully illustrated by the daughter of the 340th Bomb Group s commander Col Willis Chapman we finally encounter the real men and combat missions on which the novel was based While Heller s fully developed characters stand solely solidly and uniquely on their own merits The True Story of Catch 22 proves that any resemblance to persons living or dead is in fact actual This three part book blends fact fancy and history with full blown original illustrations and rare previously unpublished photos of these daring USAAF flyers and their Corsica based B 25 Mitchell Along with descriptions of the 340th s real wartime experiences the work includes twelve men of the Bomb Group relating richly told tales of their own In these pages it is a great pleasure to finally see the real story behind the fictionalized account and to be even more impressed Scott Carpenter NASA astronaut Heller s satiric caricatures are here shown to have stemmed from patriotic courageous highly decorated airmen who daily performed heroic wartime feats against overwhelming obstacles Library Journal The Book of Sindibād William Alexander Clouston,1884 Marauder Men John O.
