Study Guide John Paul Bischoff, 1996 Student Study Guide to The Asian World, 600-1500 Roger Des Forges, John Major, 2005-10 The Christian doctrine of heaven has been a moral source of enormous power in western culture It has provided a striking account of the ultimate good in life and has for two millennia animated the hope that our lives can be fully meaningful Recently however the doctrine of heaven has lost much of its grip on the western imagination and has become a vague and largely ignored part of the Christian creed Not only have our hopes been redefined as a result but our very identity as human beings has been altered In this book Jerry L Walls argues that the doctrine of heaven is ripe for serious reconsideration He contends not only that the orthodox view of heaven can be defended from objections commonly raised against it but also that heaven is a powerful resource for addressing persistent philosophical problems not the least of which concern the ground of morality and the meaning of life Walls shows how heaven is integrally related to central Christian doctrines particularly those concerning salvation and tackles the difficult problem of why faith in Christ is necessary to save us from our sins In addition heaven is shown to illumine thorny problems of personal identity and to be an essential component of a satisfactory theodicy Walls goes on to examine data from near death experiences from the standpoint of some important recent work in epistemology and argues that they offer positive evidence for heaven He concludes that we profoundly need to recover the hope of heaven in order to recover our very humanity Study Guide Anthony

Death Rituals and Politics in Northern Song China Mihwa Choi,2017-10-03 In traditional China a funeral and the accompanying death rituals represented a critical moment for the immediate family of the deceased to show their filial piety a core value of the society At the same time death rituals were social occasions and channels for the outward demonstration of belief in a religiously pluralistic society During the Northern Song period however death rituals increasingly became an arena for political contention as attempts were made to transform these practices from a private matter into one subject to state control Death Rituals and Politics in Northern Song China examines how political confrontations over the proper conduct of death rituals during Northern Song dynasty 960 1127 inaugurated a period of Confucian revivalism Mihwa Choi interprets Northern Song court politics family ritual practices burial practices and the popular imagination of the afterlife as sites of contest between groups of varying social status political vision and religious belief She demonstrates that the oversight of ritual affairs by scholar officials helped them gain the political upper hand they sought and more broadly fostered a revival of Confucianism as the dominant value system of Chinese society in the period that followed

Performing Filial Piety in Northern Song China Cong Ellen Zhang,2020-09-30 Educated men in Song dynasty China 960 1279 traveled frequently in search of scholarly and bureaucratic success These extensive periods of physical mobility took them away from their families homes and native places for long periods of time preventing them from fulfilling their most sacred domestic duty filial piety to their parents In this deeply grounded work Cong Ellen Zhang locates the tension between worldly ambition and family duty at the heart of elite social and cultural life Drawing on more than two thousand funerary biographies and other official and private writing Zhang argues that the predicament in which Song literati found themselves diminished neither the importance of filial piety nor the appeal of participating in examinations and government service On the contrary the Northern Song witnessed unprecedented literati activity and state involvement in the bolstering of ancient forms of filial performances and the promotion of new ones The result was the triumph of a new filial ideal luyang By labeling highly coveted honors and privileges attainable solely through scholarly and official accomplishments as the most celebrated filial acts the luyang rhetoric elevated office holding men to be the most filial of sons Consequently the proper performance of filiality became essential to scholar official identity and self representation Zhang convincingly demonstrates that this reconfiguration of elite male filiality transformed filial piety into a status and gender based virtue a change that had wide implications for elite family life and relationships in the Northern Song The separation of elite men from their parents and homes also made the idea of native place increasingly fluid This development in turn generated an interest in family preservation as filial performance Individually initiated kinship and native place based projects flourished and coalesced with the moral and cultural visions of leading scholar intellectuals providing the social and familial foundations for the ascendancy of Neo Confucianism as well as new cultural norms that transformed Chinese society in the Song and beyond
