Research Issues in Child Development Chris Pratt, Alison F. Garton, William E. Tunmer, Andrew R. Nesdale, 2017-12-06 First published in 1986 this authoritative book contains a selection of original research based reports of studies conducted in Australia and New Zealand in the field of Child Development The topics have been arranged into four major sections cognitive issues in development language and reading development perpetual motor development and social aspects of development Both pure and applied research issues are presented and the chapters cover child development from infancy to adolescence The book's special strength lies in the diversity of topics tackled and the range of developmental research represented Theoretical viewpoints are raised and empirical questions answered in the studies reported The editors have systematically drawn together important contributions which reflected contemporary topics in child development at the time Although no one common theoretical or empirical theme unites either each section or the whole book which reflects the general scope and diversity of child development in the 1980s the contributors in general see the child as developing through active interaction with his or her environment This interactionist position is clearly preferred by most researchers who realised that simplistic genetic or environmental models are inadequate to explain the complex development of the child The editors were all active researchers in the area of child development at the time and each co authored a chapter in the book All published regularly in national and international journals and books and were aware of current developments in their main areas of expertise All those interested in issues in child development will find this book important reading as it provides the reader with an excellent and diverse selection of studies bearing on a wide range of empirical research Evaluation

Coryn, 2014-09-26 The golden standard evaluation reference text Now in its second edition Evaluation Theory Models and Applications is the vital text on evaluation models perfect for classroom use as a textbook and as a professional evaluation reference The book begins with an overview of the evaluation field and program evaluation standards and proceeds to cover the most widely used evaluation approaches With new evaluation designs and the inclusion of the latest literature from the field this Second Edition is an essential update for professionals and students who want to stay current Understanding and choosing evaluation approaches is critical to many professions and Evaluation Theory Models and Applications Second Edition is the benchmark evaluation guide Authors Daniel L Stufflebeam and Chris L S Coryn widely considered experts in the evaluation field introduce and describe 23 program evaluation approaches including new to this edition transformative evaluation participatory evaluation consumer feedback and meta analysis Evaluation Theory Models and Applications Second Edition facilitates the process of planning conducting and assessing program evaluations The highlighted evaluation approaches include Experimental and quasi experimental design evaluations Daniel L Stufflebeam s CIPP Model Michael Scriven s Consumer Oriented Evaluation Michael Patton s Utilization Focused Evaluation Robert Stake s Responsive Stakeholder Centered Evaluation Case Study Evaluation Key readings listed at the end of each chapter direct readers to the most important references for each topic Learning objectives review questions student exercises and instructor support materials complete the collection of tools Choosing from evaluation approaches can be an overwhelming process but Evaluation Theory Models and Applications Second Edition updates the core evaluation concepts with the latest research making this complex field accessible in just one book

Teaching with Tasks for Effective Mathematics Learning Peter Sullivan, Doug Clarke, Barbara Clarke, 2012-09-12 This book is about how teachers can use classroom mathematics tasks to support student learning and presents data on the ways in which teachers used those tasks in a particular research project It is the product of research findings focusing on teacher practice teacher learning and knowledge and student learning It demonstrates how teachers can use mathematics tasks to promote effective student learning Traffic and Transport Psychology Geoffrey Underwood, 2005-06-09 Just as our transport systems become more and more important to our economic and social well being so they become more and more crowded and more at risk from congestion disruption and collapse Technology and engineering can provide part of the solution but the complete solution will need to take account of the behaviour of the users of the transport networks The role of psychologists in this is to understand how people make decisions about the alternative modes of transport and about the alternative routes to their destinations to understand how novice and other vulnerable users can develop safe and effective behaviours how competent users can operate within the transport system optimally and within their perceptual and cognitive limitations The contributions to this volume address these issues of how the use of our transport systems can be improved by taking into account knowledge of the behaviour of the people who use the systems Topics discussed include driver training and licensing driver impairment road user attitudes and behaviour enforcement and behaviour change driver support systems and the psychology of mobility and transport mode choice This work will be of value not only to psychologists but to all transport professionals interested in the application of psychology to traffic

Primary Languages: Effective Learning and Teaching Cynthia Martin, 2008-10-16 Primary languages are to be an entitlement for all pupils in KS2 from 2010 There is therefore a need to ensure that trainee primary teachers are equipped with the required skills knowledge and understanding to contribute to this process This book supports specialists and also non specialist trainees with an interest in MFL who may need to deliver languages across the curriculum providing them with a clear understanding of the methodology and helping them to develop linguistic competence and confidence Cognitive Development and Working Memory Pierre Barrouillet, Vinciane Gaillard, 2010-12-21 This book presents a unique attempt to address issues of working memory by establishing a dialogue between neo Piagetian theorists and researchers specialized in typical and atypical working memory development

In Print Rod Revell, Simon Sweeney, 1993-02-25 In Print is a resource for those students of Business English who want to develop their ability to deal effectively with the kind of written documents which they meet or will meet in their day to day working lives All the texts in the book are from authentic sources and the 12 units focus on a wide variety of topics from Marketing to Legal contracts With the exception of Unit 1 which deals with Reading Techniques and which should be done as an introduction to the book the units can be used in any order or combination on their own or with other materials In Print is completely self contained with an answer key at the back and can be used by students working on their own

Teachers and Schooling Making A Difference Pam Christie, Bob Lingard, 2020-08-04 Teachers Schooling Making a Difference takes seriously the question that teachers ask What do I do on Monday and does provide answers From the foreword by Professor Michael Apple University of Wisconsin Education debates are currently dominated by free market ideologists who push privatisation and competition as the answer to every problem regardless of damage to schools and pupils Teachers Schooling Making a Difference shows that we can think about education in a far more productive way Professor R W Connell University of Sydney This book is a lesson in making hope practical It makes a compelling argument for recognising supporting and enabling teachers as central to progressive school reform Professor Jenny Ozga University of Edinburgh What teachers do in the classroom really matters even though schools cannot compensate fully for difficulties children may face at home and in society Good teachers and good schools have been making a difference in children s lives for generations but what exactly is it that works Based on extensive research in 1000 primary and secondary classrooms this book examines the tough questions about teaching methods curriculum assessment and teachers professionalism The authors isolate the key elements that make the difference in the classroom and offer teachers practical approaches to working with all their students Teachers and Schools Making a Difference is essential reading for teachers and school administrators who want to improve their professional skills and offer a genuinely democratic education U.S. Coast Guard Engineering, Electronics & Logistics Quarterly ,2005 Reasoning, Communication And Connections In Mathematics: Yearbook 2012, Association Of Mathematics Educators Berinderjeet Kaur,Tin Lam Toh,2012-04-20 This fourth volume in the series of yearbooks by the Association of Mathematics Educators in Singapore entitled Reasoning Communication and Connections in Mathematics is unique in that it focuses on a single theme in mathematics education The objective is to encourage teachers and researchers to advance reasoning communication and connections in mathematics classrooms Several renowned international researchers in the field have published their work in this volume The fifteen chapters of the book illustrate evidence based practices that school teachers and researchers can experiment with in their own classrooms to bring about meaningful learning outcomes Three major themes mathematical tasks classroom discourse and connectivity within and beyond mathematics shape the ideas underpinning reasoning communication and connections in these chapters The book makes a significant contribution towards mathematical processes essential for learners of mathematics It is a good resource for mathematics educators and research students Homepages Maths Robin Grist,2002-08 Presents a software by which you can personalise activities and supporting resources This work offers a range of activities designed to support and complement your lessons including home context work number games and puzzles problems to solve and short written exercises including mental maths and language quizzes
