The Unknown Gary Jarvis, 2003 Some regarded him as the father of modern space travel Yet first attempt at building an interstellar gateway cost him his life and ended in disaster his machine destroyed Those that followed learnt from his mistakes and in time they produced a working gateway However few understood the full consequences of that first failed attempt at linking to a fourth space dimension For a gateway had been opened a gateway to a far darker realm than the one the scientist had aimed for and a ripple of evil was cast out across time A few centuries later in 2210 a group of nine travellers are sent on a rescue mission to find a missing ship lost in the outer regions of the known universe As they near the stricken and now apparently deserted vessel ghostly occurrences start to haunt the crew and soon they are drawn into a deadly game with the curse created with the scientist's fateful experiment The travellers however are not the first to experience the wrath of this curse for it has plagued mankind for centuries first surfacing in the early part of the 17th century when an enslaved voodoo priest is found to have powers far beyond his humble earthly beginnings Then in 1932 a luxury cruise liner sinks under mysterious circumstances with all lives lost The puzzle of its loss remains hidden until in 2001 a diving team investigating the wreck is attacked by an unseen wraith Now deep in space far from any help the group of rescuers must succeed where others over the centuries have failed and end the nightmare that began with one scientist's small step into THE UNKNOWN

Why We Are Losing the War on Gun Violence in the United States Marie Crandall, Stephanie Bonne, Jennifer Bronson, Woodie Kessel, 2020-12-09 This edited collection of data and perspectives takes a fresh approach to gun violence prevention by addressing the question why are we losing the war on gun violence in America Although successes and failures in the prevention of gun violence are examined it is a war we are losing due to restrictions on research funding entrenched historical perspectives structural violence and perhaps differing priorities or views on what is right or wrong Gun violence is a public health crisis It remains politicized and has been paralyzed with inaction In the chapters the authors write candidly about the challenges that have thwarted gun violence prevention as well as highlight possible strategies for progress to save lives Critical areas explored among the chapters include Gun Violence Structural Violence and Social Justice School

Shootings Creating Safer Schools Mental Illness and Gun Violence Understanding the Political Divide in Gun Policy Support The Second Amendment and the War on Guns The Impact of Policy and Law Enforcement Strategies on Reducing Gun Violence in America Youth Gun Violence Prevention Organizing Smart Guns Don't Kill People With this compendium the editors and authors hope to bridge the growing gap between groups or ideologies and create common ground to discuss workable solutions Why We Are Losing the War on Gun Violence in the United States is essential reading for a broad audience including practitioners academics researchers students policy makers and other professionals in public health behavioral sciences including social work and psychology social sciences health sciences public policy political science and law as well as any readers interested in the path to decreasing gun violence in America Government-wide Index to Federal Research & Development Reports, 1965-03 Circular United States.
