Shin, Daniel C. Sneider, 2011-02-08 Over the past fifteen years Northeast Asia has witnessed growing intraregional exchanges and interactions especially in the realms of culture and economy Still the region cannot escape from the burden of history This book examines the formation of historical memory in four Northeast Asian societies China Japan South Korea and Taiwan and the United States focusing on the period from the beginning of the Sino Japanese war in 1931 until the formal conclusion of the Pacific War with the San Francisco Peace Treaty of 1951 The contributors analyse the recent efforts of Korean Japanese and Chinese scholars to write a common history of Northeast Asia and question the underlying motivations for their efforts and subsequent achievements In doing so they contend that the greatest obstacle to reconciliation in Northeast Asia lies in the existence of divided and often conflicting historical memories The book argues that a more fruitful approach lies in understanding how historical memory has evolved in each country and been incorporated into respective master narratives Through uncovering the existence of different master narratives it is hoped citizens will develop a more self critical self reflective approach to their own history and that such an introspective effort has the potential to lay the foundation for greater self and mutual understanding and eventual historical reconciliation in the region This book will be essential reading for students and scholars of Asian history Asian education and international relations in East Asia members have struggled to make their voices heard and to have their identities incorporated into the national narrative The authors discuss portrayals of past exclusions around religion ethnicity sexual orientation as they look at the shifting boundaries of insider and outsider This book is thus about who we are not only demographically but also in terms of the past especially how and whether we teach discredited pasts through textbooks The concluding chapters provides ways forward in thinking about what can be done to promote curricula that are more inclusive critical and positively bonding in increasingly larger and more inclusive contexts

Contested Curriculum Don Romesburg,2025-04-15 Today many states have proposed so called Don t Say Gay bills that prohibit public school teachers from mentioning LGBTQ topics in the classroom But a few states like California have taken decisive steps in the other direction They mandate inclusive education that treats LGBTQ history as essential to the curriculum At once a history of an evolving movement and an activist handbook Contested Curriculum navigates the rocky path to LGBTQ inclusive K 12 history education in the United States and recounts the fight for a curriculum that recognizes the value of queer and trans lives What began in fits and starts in activism and educational materials across the late twentieth century led to the passage of California s landmark FAIR Education Act in 2011 ensuring that LGBTQ history has a place in the K 12 classroom Historian Don Romesburg the lead scholar who worked with advocacy organizations to pass the act recounts the decades long struggle to integrate LGBTQ content into history education policy textbooks and classrooms Looking at California and states that followed its lead he assesses the challenges and opportunities presented by this new way of teaching history Romesburg s powerful case for LGBTQ inclusive education is all the more urgent in this era of anti gay book bans regressive legislation and attempts to diminish the vital role that inclusive and honest history education should play in a democratic nation 20th Century American History for Teens Carrie Floyd

Hartlep, Daniel P. Scott, 2016-08-18 In this important book Nicholas Hartlep and Daniel Scott s detailed analyses on both visual and historical representations of Asian Americans in textbooks and teacher manuals used in our elementary and secondary schools poignantly tell us that generations of children are growing up being fed this single story about Asian Americans As Hartlep and Scott write Asian Americans have once again been constructed as the good minority that can succeed on their own and be used as a political instrument to shame the Blacks for their underachievement and their fight for equality Over and over again the media has been telling a single story about Asian Americans to the public for the past fifty years The consequence of this fabricated story is that it discourages others even Asian Americans themselves from believing in the validity of their struggles Linshi 2014 p 1 Lies My Teacher Told Me James W. Loewen, 2008 Criticizes the way history is presented in current textbooks and suggests a more accurate approach to teaching American history

The Patchwork of World History in Texas High Schools Stephen Jackson, 2022-11-30 This book traces the historical development of the World History course as it has been taught in high school classrooms in Texas a populous and nationally influential state over the last hundred years Arguing that the course is a result of a patchwork of competing groups and ideas that have intersected over the past century with each new framework patched over but never completely erased or replaced the author crucially examines themes of imperialism Eurocentrism and nationalism in both textbooks and the curriculum more broadly The first part of the book presents an overview of the World History course supported by numerical analysis of textbook content and public documents while the second focuses on the depiction of non Western peoples and persistent narratives of Eurocentrism and nationalism It ultimately offers that a more global accurate and balanced curriculum is possible despite the tension between the ideas of professional world historians who often de center the nation state in their quest for a truly global approach to the subject and the historical core rationale of state sponsored education in the United States to produce loyal citizens Offering a new conceptual understanding of how colonial themes in World History curriculum have been dealt with in the past and are now engaged with in contemporary times it provides essential context for scholars and educators with interests in the history of education curriculum studies and the teaching of World History in the United States Education Across the African Diaspora Derron Wallace, Kassie Freeman, Ernest Morrell, Henry Levin, 2023-12-05

The New Politics of the Textbook Heather Hickman, Brad J. Porfilio, 2012-10-13 In an age of unprecedented corporate and political control over life inside of educational institutions this book provides a needed intervention to investigate how the economic and political elite use traditional artifacts in K 16 schools to perpetuate their interests at the expense of minoritized social groups The contributors provide a comprehensive examination of how textbooks the most dominant cultural force in which corporations and political leaders impact the schooling curricula shape students thoughts and behavior perpetuate power in dominant groups and trivialize social groups who are oppressed on the structural axes of race class gender sexuality and dis ability Several contributors also generate critical insight in how power shapes the production of textbooks and evaluate whether textbooks still perpetuate dominant Western narratives that normalize and privilege patriotism militarism consumerism White supremacy heterosexism rugged individualism technology and a positivistic conception of the world Finally the book highlights several textbooks that challenge readers to rethink their stereotypical views of the Other to reflect upon the constitutive forces causing oppression in schools and in the wider society and to reflect upon how to challenge corporate and political dominance over knowledge production

Lies My Teacher Told Me James W. Loewen, 2018-07-17 Every teacher every student of history every citizen should read this book It is both a refreshing antidote to what has passed for history in our educational system and a one volume education in itself Howard Zinn A new edition of the national bestseller and American Book Award winner with a new preface by the author Since its first publication in 1995 Lies My Teacher Told Me has become one of the most important and successful history books of our time Having sold nearly two million copies the book also won an American Book Award and the Oliver Cromwell Cox Award for Distinguished Anti Racist Scholarship and was heralded on the front page of the New York Times For this new edition Loewen has added a new preface that shows how inadequate history courses in high school help produce adult Americans who think Donald Trump can solve their problems and calls out academic historians for abandoning the concept of truth in a misguided effort to be objective What started out as a survey of the twelve leading American history textbooks has ended up being what the San Francisco Chronicle calls an extremely convincing plea for truth in education In Lies My Teacher Told Me James W Loewen brings history alive in all its complexity and ambiguity Beginning with pre Columbian history and ranging over characters and events as diverse as Reconstruction Helen Keller the first Thanksgiving the My Lai massacre 9 11 and the Iraq War Loewen offers an eye opening critique of existing textbooks and a wonderful retelling of American history as it should and could be taught to American students
