Timmons Roberts, Melissa M. Toffolon-Weiss, 2001-09-24. Chronicles from the Environmental Justice Frontline, first published in 1991, provides a rare glimpse of the environmental justice movement as it plays out in four landmark struggles at the end of the twentieth century. The book describes the stories of everyday people who have decided to take to the streets to battle what they perceive as injustice: the unequal exposure of minorities and the poor to the bads produced by our industrial society. In these struggles, residents and local, state, and national environmental and social justice groups are on one side, pitted against local and state government representatives and industry on the other. By employing historical and theoretical lenses in viewing these struggles, the book reveals how situations of environmental injustice are created and how they are resolved. These cases bear great similarity to battles occurring across the nation and are setting precedents for national and state agencies as they handle these cases. Cajun Connection Series Books 1 - 3 Kathy Ivan, 2025-03-10. SAVING SARAH Haunted by memories of war and strangely prophetic dreams, Gaston Ranger Boudreau spends his time alone in the Louisiana bayou he calls home. Brenner, 2011-09-30 The plays collected in this volume give artistic expression to the devastation wrought by Hurricane Katrina, especially at the level of individual lives forever altered. Besides telling the kinds of stories that the news media could not, these plays explore the deeply rooted problems plaguing New Orleans and illuminate many social, political, and environmental issues central to American life. The factual basis of these plays serves a documentary purpose, but as drama, they personalize the events surrounding the storm, depicting unimaginable anguish, powerlessness, and displacement, as well as courage, communal spirit, and activism.
