Jisung Park, 2025-07-29 How the subtle but significant consequences of a hotter planet have already begun from lower test scores to higher crime rates and how we might tackle them today It's hard not to feel anxious about the problem of climate change especially if we think of it as an impending planetary catastrophe In Slow Burn R. Jisung Park encourages us to view climate change through a different lens one that focuses less on the possibility of mass climate extinction in a theoretical future and more on the everyday implications of climate change here and now Drawing on a wealth of new data and cutting edge economics Park shows how climate change headlines often miss some of the most important costs When wildfires blaze what happens to people downwind of the smoke When natural disasters destroy buildings and bridges what happens to educational outcomes Park explains how climate change operates as the silent accumulation of a thousand tiny conflagrations imperceptibly elevated health risks spread across billions of people pennies off the dollar of productivity fewer opportunities for upward mobility By investigating how the physical phenomenon of climate change interacts with social and economic institutions Park illustrates how climate change already affects everyone and may act as an amplifier of inequality Wealthier households and corporations may adapt quickly but without targeted interventions less advantaged communities may not Viewing climate change as a slow and unequal burn comes with an important silver lining It puts dollars and cents behind the case for aggressive emissions cuts and helps identify concrete steps that can be taken to better manage its adverse effects We can begin to overcome our climate anxiety Park shows us when we begin to tackle these problems locally The Afrocentric Praxis of Teaching for Freedom Joyce E. King, Ellen E. Swartz, 2015-08-27 The Afrocentric Praxis of Teaching for Freedom explains and illustrates how an African worldview as a platform for culture based teaching and learning helps educators to retrieve African heritage and cultural knowledge which have been historically discounted and decoupled from teaching and learning The book has three objectives To exemplify how each of the emancipatory pedagogies it delineates and demonstrates is supported by African worldview concepts and parallel knowledge general understandings values and claims that are produced by that worldview To make African Diasporan cultural connections visible in the curriculum through numerous examples of cultural continuities seen in the actions of Diasporan groups and individuals that consistently exhibit an African worldview or cultural framework To provide teachers with content drawn from Africa's legacy to humanity as a model for locating all students and the cultures and groups they represent as subjects in the curriculum and pedagogy of schooling This book expands the Afrocentric praxis presented in the authors Remembering History in Teacher and Student

Montag, 2014-11-30 History of Nebraska was originally created to mark the territorial centennial of Nebraska and then revised to coincide with the statehood centennial This one volume history quickly became the standard text for the college student and reference for the general reader unmatched for generations as the only comprehensive history of the state This fourth edition revised and updated preserves the spirit and intelligence of the original Incorporating the results of years of scholarship and research this edition gives fuller attention to such topics as the Native American experience in Nebraska and the accomplishments and circumstances of the state's women and minorities It also provides a historical analysis of the state's dramatic changes in the past two decades

Family Health Care Nursing Joanna Rowe Kaakinen, Deborah Padgett Coehlo, Rose Steele, Melissa Robinson, 2018-02-01

Prepare for the real world of family nursing care Explore family nursing the way it s practiced today with a theory guided evidence based approach to care throughout the family life cycle that responds to the needs of families and adapts to the changing dynamics of the health care system From health promotion to end of life a streamlined organization delivers the clinical guidance you need to care for families Significantly updated and thoroughly revised the 6th Edition reflects the art and science of family nursing practice in today s rapidly evolving healthcare environments Exposed Christopher T. Robertson, 2019-12-17 A sharp expos of the roots of the cost exposure consensus in American health care that shows how the next wave of reform can secure real access and efficiency The toxic battle over how to reshape American health care has overshadowed the underlying bipartisan agreement that health insurance coverage should be incomplete Both Democrats and Republicans expect patients to bear a substantial portion of health care costs through deductibles copayments and coinsurance In theory this strategy empowers patients to make cost benefit tradeoffs encourages thrift and efficiency in a system rife with waste and defends against the moral hazard that can arise from insurance But in fact as Christopher T Robertson reveals this cost exposure consensus keeps people from valuable care causes widespread anxiety and drives many patients and their families into bankruptcy and foreclosure Marshalling a decade of research Exposed offers an alternative framework that takes us back to the core purpose of insurance pooling resources to provide individuals access to care that would otherwise be unaffordable Robertson shows how the cost exposure consensus has changed the meaning and experience of health care and exchanged one form of moral hazard for another He also provides avenues of reform If cost exposure remains a primary strategy physicians hospitals and other providers must be held legally responsible for communicating those costs to patients and insurance companies should scale cost exposure to individuals ability to pay New and more promising models are on the horizon if only we would let go our misguided embrace of incomplete insurance

The Invention of the American Art Museum Kathleen Curran, 2016-07-01 American art museums share a mission and format that differ from those of their European counterparts which often have origins in aristocratic collections This groundbreaking work recounts the fascinating story of the invention of the modern American art museum starting with its roots in the 1870s in the craft museum type which was based on London s South Kensington now the Victoria and Albert Museum At the turn of the twentieth century American planners grew enthusiastic about a new type of museum and presentation that was developed in Northern Europe particularly in Germany Switzerland and Scandinavia Called Kulturgeschichte cultural history museums they were evocative displays of regional history American trustees museum directors and curators found that the Kulturgeschichte approach offered a variety of transformational options in planning museums classifying and displaying objects and broadening collecting categories including American art and the decorative arts Leading institutions including the Museum of Fine Arts Boston and the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York

adopted and developed crucial aspects of the Kulturgeschichte model By the 1930s such museum plans and exhibition techniques had become standard practice at museums across the country
