The Foundations of Sovereignty, and Other Essays Harold Joseph Laski, 1921 Essay Evolution Mason Ross, AI, 2025-05-05 Essay Evolution explores the rich history of the essay charting its course from classical rhetoric to modern personal forms This journey reveals how the essay has continuously adapted reflecting evolving societal values and intellectual currents Intriguingly the book highlights the initial dominance of structured pronouncements and how the Renaissance saw the emergence of more subjective expressions marking a significant shift in essay writing Readers will gain insights into how cultural history and intellectual exploration have shaped this literary form The book progresses chronologically beginning with an examination of classical essays rooted in rhetorical principles It then transitions to the Renaissance highlighting the influence of essayists like Montaigne before diving into the heart of the modern essay across the Enlightenment Romantic era and the 20th and 21st centuries Through detailed analyses of key essayists and their works Essay Evolution demonstrates the enduring relevance of the essay as a vital tool for critical thinking and self discovery This comprehensive approach makes it valuable for anyone interested in literary essays and academic essays Essays on Giordano Bruno Hilary Gatti, 2010-10-18 This book gathers wide ranging essays on the Italian Renaissance philosopher and cosmologist Giordano Bruno by one of the world's leading authorities on his work and life Many of these essays were originally written in Italian and appear here in English for the first time Bruno 1548 1600 is principally famous as a proponent of heliocentrism the infinity of the universe and the plurality of worlds But his work spanned the sciences and humanities sometimes touching the borders of the occult and Hilary Gatti's essays richly reflect this diversity The book is divided into sections that address three broad subjects the relationship between Bruno and the new science the history of his reception in English culture and the principal characteristics of his natural philosophy A final essay examines why this advocate of a tranquil universal philosophy ended up being burned at the stake as a heretic by the Roman Inquisition While the essays take many different approaches they are united by a number of assumptions that although well versed in magic Bruno cannot be defined primarily as a Renaissance Magus that his aim was to articulate a new philosophy of nature and that his thought while based on ancient and medieval sources represented a radical rupture with the philosophical schools of the past helping forge a path toward a new modernity Rethinking the Foundations Steven L. McKenzie, Thomas Römer, 2011-11-21 The series Beihefte zur Zeitschrift für die alttestamentliche Wissenschaft BZAW covers all areas of research into the Old Testament focusing on the Hebrew Bible its early and later forms in Ancient Judaism as well as its branching into many neighboring cultures of the Ancient Near East and the Greco Roman world The Criminological Foundations of Penal Policy Lucia Zedner, Andrew Ashworth, 2003 The Criminological Foundations of Penal Policy brings together leading international criminologists to examine the link between the fruits of criminological research and the development of criminal justice policy This volume includes comparative discussions of the United States Germany Australia

England and Wales It is divided into four parts Part 1 discusses the theoretical issues surrounding the relationship between public policy and the discipline of criminology Part 2 consists of three essays exploring historical aspects of that relationship Part 3 then examines three distinct areas of penal policy sentencing policing and parole as case studies of the influence of research upon the development of policy Finally in Part 4 which is explicitly devoted to international comparisons there is a consideration of the factors that distinguish research projects that do influence criminal justice policy from those that appear not to The Criminological Foundations of Penal Policy is a volume in honour of Roger Hood Professor of Criminology and Director of the Centre for Criminological Research in the University of Oxford

Introduction to Sri Aurobindo's Philosophy Dr. N.N. Londhe,2017-06-13 Having applied the standards of modern critical theory it may sound fruitless to account for biographical details of writer in interpreting his work as the biographical details either hold no importance or have nothing to do with the work of art in the sense that once a work of art is born it loses its connection with the creator Moreover even in the moment of creation the author remains detached from his creation However there are some exceptions to this It has been observed that the biographical details are of immense help in partly making sense of what the concerned author has encoded These details can be correlated to his writing In the case of some writers their life has a special relation with what they write how they led their life what inspiration they sought what influences they received and imbibed in their personality what experiences they lived with and what events and occasions they confronted All these partly go into the making of a literary personality
