Easton, 1993-12-01 Terminal

Illusion David Yun, 2002-11 The book would make a perfect company with the new I of computer culture especially for those who expect something special In a uniquely historical setting we are about to experience the rise of a fundamental human force We vacillate between moments whether things around us are transfigured and seem to be there for the first time or things tend to lose all their weight and all meaning becomes obscured and we ask about the real self The author argues passionately that the real self its inevitability in fact lies in the practice of its own negation The book proposes the logos needed for a discourse as what makes us the speaker for the first time The key is the self discovery of a dialectical doublet the thinking self and negation Where the logos makes use of idle thought the surplus stored in the sexual energies of the species which would be otherwise wasted it simply becomes a piece of existence moving toward the ultimate unity of Nature and civilization by holding on to its negation This may serve as an antithesis needed to advance the psychology of the so called intellectuals who are locked to the suggestions of the status quo Terminal Island Walter Greatshell, 2012-12-01 Henry

Cadmus grew up on Catalina Island a scenic vacationland off the Southern California coast But Henry s experiences were far from idyllic Today even though Henry has seen firsthand the horrors of war the ghastly images that haunt his dreams is one he associates with his childhood and the island a snarling pig man holding a cleaver a jackal headed woman on a high balcony dripping blood strange occult rituals and worse If it was up to Henry he would avoid the island entirely But Henry is returning to Catalina Island At his wife Ruby s insistence Henry Ruby and their infant daughter are coming to Avalon so that Henry can face his fears exorcise his demons and reconcile with the one he fears most his mother From Walter Greatshell author of Xombies comes Terminal Island a novel of cosmic horror Astounding Science-fiction ,1951 Men in

African Film & Fiction Lahoucine Ouzgane, 2011 Fills a gap in the international literature by offering new insights into the heterogeneous ways in which African men are performing negotiating and experiencing masculinity Through their analysis of the depictions in film and literature of masculinities in colonial independent and post independent Africa the contributors open some key African texts to a more obviously politicized set of meanings Collectively the essays provide space for rethinking current theory on gender and masculinity how only some of the most popular theories in masculinity studies in the West hold true in African contexts how Western masculinities react with indigenous masculinities on the continent how masculinity and femininity in Africa seem to reside more on a continuum of cultural practices than on absolutely opposite planes and how generation often functions as a more potent metaphor than gender Lahoucine Ouzgane is Associate Professor of English Film Studies University of Alberta Canada

Making Asian American Film and Video Jun Okada, 2015-03-06 The words Asian American film might evoke a painfully earnest low budget documentary or family drama destined to be seen only in small film festivals or on PBS Public Broadcasting Service In her groundbreaking study of the past fifty years of Asian American film and video Jun Okada demonstrates that although this stereotype is not entirely unfounded a remarkably diverse range of Asian American filmmaking has emerged Yet Okada also reveals how the legacy of institutional funding and the PBS style unites these filmmakers whether they are working within that system or setting themselves in opposition to its conventions Making Asian

American Film and Video explores how the genre has served as a flashpoint for debates about what constitutes Asian American identity Tracing a history of how Asian American film was initially conceived as a form of public interest media part of a broader effort to give voice to underrepresented American minorities Okada shows why this seemingly well intentioned project inspired deeply ambivalent responses In addition she considers a number of Asian American filmmakers who have opted out of producing state funded films from Wayne Wang to Gregg Araki to Justin Lin Okada gives us a unique behind the scenes look at the various institutions that have bankrolled and distributed Asian American films revealing the dynamic interplay between commercial and state run media More than just a history of Asian Americans in film Making Asian American Film and Video is an insightful meditation on both the achievements and the limitations of institutionalized multiculturalism
