Web-II Medani P. Bhandari, 2022-09-01 In dealing with the IUCN one must bear in mind that there never has been and undoubtedly never will be any other organization even remotely resembling it Its peculiarities subtleties and complexities are sometimes mind boggling Nicholson 1990 in Holdgate 1999 ix Green Web II investigates IUCN s role in global biodiversity conservation policy as well as in national program development in India Pakistan Nepal and Bangladesh It explores how nature protection priorities and approaches are promoted or addressed by IUCN an international organization and how environment conservation policies are created and maintained in states with different capacities of South Asia It also evaluates IUCN s competency in bio diversity climate change nature conservation and environmental policy formulation at global regional and country level This study is the first detailed scholarly study on the IUCN as an organization as well as on its efforts in biodiversity conservation This book adds to our knowledge firstly by contributing to a small but growing body of work on the sociology of international organizations IOs especially International Governmental Organizations IGOs have long been the subject of mostly political science Secondly it applies a fuller sociological imagination to the study of IOs by critically exploring one of the largest and most active nature conservation organizations in the world Thirdly it also explores how the IUCN actually goes about building protectoral programs with individual member nations Additionally the book explores the recent development of the green economy GE concepts into IUCN s program planning today The green economy initiative applies a people first approach Although the concept is relatively new this research explores the theoretical development of a green economy and illustrates how this theory is applied in IUCN s program planning to program implementation

Circuit Techniques for Low-Voltage and High-Speed A/D Converters Mikko E. Waltari,Kari A.I. Halonen,2005-12-30 For four decades the evolution of integrated circuits has followed Moore s law according to which the number of transistors per square millimeter of silicon doubles every 18 months At the same time transistors have become faster making possible ever increasing clock rates in digital circuits This trend seems set to continue for at least another decade without slowing down Thus in the near future the processing power of digital circuits will continue to increase at an accelerating pace For analog circuits the evolution of technology is not as beneficial Thus there is a trend to move signal processing functions from the analog domain to the digital one which besides allowing for a higher level of accuracy provides savings in power consumption and silicon area increases robustness speeds up the design process brings flexibility and programmability and increases the possibilities for design reuse In many applications the input and output signals of the system are inherently analog preventing all digital realizations at the very least a conversion between analog and digital is needed at the terfaces Typically moving the analog digital boundary closer to the outside world increases the bit rate across it In telecommunications systems the trend to boost bit rates is based on plying wider bandwidths and a higher signal to noise ratio. At the same time, radio architectures in many applications are evolving toward software defined radio, one of the main characteristics of which is the shifting of the analog/digital boundary closer to the antenna.
