Superintendent of Documents,1896 Representations of Child Soldiers in Contemporary African Narratives Ademola Adesola,2024-09-11 In Representations of Child Soldiers in Contemporary African Narratives Ademola Adesola examines the dominant factors that writers privilege in their portrayals of child soldiering in sub Saharan Africa In his textual interpretive analyses of selected novels in the African child soldier genre Adesola contends that critical discussions of African child soldier literature have depended on the interpretive frameworks supplied by Western humanitarian discourses which oversimplify and de historicize experiences of war in Africa The author argues that such reductive decontextualization of war realities serve to champion a narrow vision of war in African contexts centered on a moral and humanitarian urge for Western intervention Regardless of whether the casus belli legitimating those wars are genuine or not those conflicts and children s involvement in them are understood within the same racist colonial and ethnocentric stereotypes about Africa that have been privileged in Western thought and the Western moral political imagination for centuries Thus in studying African child soldier narratives this book provides an alternative reading of novels whose settings feature African ethnopolitical conflicts such as in Sierra Leone Liberia Congo Brazzaville Nigeria notable for their exploitation of children for military ends The author maintains that these works are significant in the varying ways they reify and challenge the Western ideas of child and childhood as well as privilege child soldiers as social actors whose intricate makeups disavow being simply understood as innocent victims or irredeemable perpetrators of atrocities When "I" was Born Jing M. Wang,2008 In the period between the 1920s and 1940s a genre emerged in Chinese literature that would reveal crucial contradictions in Chinese culture that still exist today At a time of intense political conflict Chinese women began to write autobiography a genre that focused on personal identity and self exploration rather than the national collective identity that the country was championing When I Was Born Women s Autobiography in Modern China reclaims the voices of these particular writers voices that have been misinterpreted and overlooked for decades Tracing women writers as they move from autobiographical fiction often self revelatory and personal to explicit autobiographies that focused on women s roles in public life Jing M Wang reveals the factors that propelled this literary movement the roles that liberal translators and their renditions of Western life stories played and the way in which these women writers redefined writing and gender in the stories they told But Wang reveals another story as well the evolving history and identity of women in modern Chinese society When I Was Born adds to a growing body of important work in Chinese history and culture women s studies and autobiography in a global context Writers discussed include Xie Bingying Zhang Ailing Yu Yinzi Fei Pu Lu Meiyen Feng Heyi Ye Qian Bai Wei Shi Wen Fan Xiulin Su Xuelin and Lu Yin
