Advances in Theory and Practice* Wolf Zimmermann, Bernhard Thalheim,2004-05-11 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 11th International Workshop on Abstract State Machines ASM 2004 held in Lutherstadt Wittenberg Germany in May 2004 The 12 revised full research papers presented together with 4 invited papers were carefully reviewed and selected for inclusion in the book The papers reflect state of the art research and development of the abstract state machine method for the design and analysis of complex software and hardware systems Besides theoretical results and methodological progress applications in various fields are studied as well Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2003 Technology-Based Education Lisa M. PytlikZillig,Mary Bodvarsson,Roger Bruning,2006-05-01 This volume will highlight papers presented at the second Nebraska Symposium on Information Technology in Education With chapters focusing on the latest research findings and theoretical principles for using technology in education the volume will extend findings from current research on technology mediated instruction into a set of practical principles for designers teachers and managers of educational technology Contributors will identify technical and design features required for sharing of content and assessment tools and will target promising areas for future research and development in technology based learning instruction and assessment Prentice Hall Middle

Grades Math: Course 2, 1999 Large-Scale Studies in Mathematics Education James A. Middleton, Jinfa Cai, Stephen Hwang, 2015-05-05 In recent years funding agencies like the Institute of Educational Sciences and the National Science Foundation have increasingly emphasized large scale studies with experimental and quasi experimental designs looking for objective truths Educational researchers have recently begun to use large scale studies to understand what really works from developing interventions to validation studies of the intervention and then to efficacy studies and the final scale up for large implementation of an intervention Moreover modeling student learning developmentally taking into account cohort factors issues of socioeconomics local political context and the presence or absence of interventions requires the use of large data sets wherein these variables can be sampled adequately and inferences made Inroads in quantitative methods have been made in the psychometric and sociometric literatures but these methods are not yet common knowledge in the mathematics education community In fact currently there is no volume devoted to discussion of issues related to large scale studies and to report findings from them This volume is unique as it directly discusses methodological issue in large scale studies and reports empirical data from large scale studies Learning Through Teaching Mathematics Roza Leikin, Rina Zazkis, 2010-04-10 The idea of teachers Learning through Teaching LTT when presented to a naïve bystander appears as an oxymoron Are we not supposed to learn before we teach After all under the usual circumstances learning is the task for those who are being taught not of those who teach However this book is about the learning of teachers not the learning of students It is an ancient wisdom that the best way to truly learn something is to teach it to others Nevertheless once a teacher has taught a particular topic or concept and consequently truly learned it what is left for this teacher to learn As evident in this book the experience of teaching presents teachers with an exciting opportunity for learning throughout their entire career This means acquiring a better understanding of what is being taught and moreover learning a variety of new things What these new things may be and how they are learned is addressed in the collection of chapters in this volume LTT is acknowledged by multiple researchers and mathematics educators In the first chapter Leikin and Zazkis review literature that recognizes this phenomenon and stress that only a small number of studies attend systematically to LTT processes The authors in this volume purposefully analyze the teaching of mathematics as a source for teachers own learning
