Multiphysics and Multiscale Building Physics Umberto Berardi, 2024-12-18 This book contains selected papers presented at the 9th edition of the official triennial conference of the International Association of Building Physics IABP held in Toronto Ontario Canada on 25-27 July 2024. The contents make valuable contributions to academic researchers and practitioners of the building sector. Readers will encounter new ideas for realizing more efficient and resilient buildings and cities. The approach followed in the book aims to explore how building physics can be explored using multi domains and scales New

Housing in Oman Gustavo de Siqueira, Iman Al Ofi, Sadmira Malaj, Aya Al Mohammed, Kai Giesler, Amal Al Balushi, 2023-01-10 After five decades of rampant growth, Oman is challenged to rethink its urbanization patterns. The continuous expansion of the footprint in major cities as the method of response to the increasing housing demands has reached its limits. The attempts to revert the current scenario by introducing more efficient housing typologies in terms of land use are not attractive for the locals who are still attached to the dream of owning a single family villa. DOCS explores a set of methods to generate alternative typologies that lead to more compact growth while addressing cultural issues. Dr. Ing Gustavo de Siqueira is Associate Professor of the Urban Planning and Architectural Design of the German University of Technology in Oman. He is the project leader of the Where Oman Walks initiative, AKA the WOW project. WOW aims to create more active built environments in the residential neighborhoods in Oman employing a collaborative design approach. Iman Al Ofi is a Research and Teaching Assistant at UPAD department of the German University of Technology in Oman and a WOW team member. Sadmira Malaj holds a master's degree in urban planning. She is currently working as Assistant Lecturer and Researcher at Polis University in the areas of Transportation infrastructure and its impact on the built environment. Aya Al Mohammed is an Urban Planner, Architectural Designer, and researcher. She is currently working at Target Oilfield Services as an Urban Development Engineer and is a former member of the WOW project. Kai Giesler holds a master's degree in Architecture of the RWTH Aachen and is a former member of the WOW project. Amal Al Balushi holds a master's degree of the Transforming cities and regions program of the RWTH Aachen and is a former member of the WOW project. Analyses

on Health Status and Care Needs among Older Adults Jian Sun, Hongye Luo, Yi Zeng, 2025-09-12 Globally, a shift in population structures and disease spectrum is inevitable. The latest global burden of disease study revealed that the average healthy life expectancy has steadily increased from 1990 to 2019 worldwide. However, there is a concerning trend in which the growth in healthy life expectancy is lower than the growth in life expectancy in 198 out of 204 countries evaluated. This implies that people spend more time in sub-optimal health despite living longer. Moreover, non-communicable diseases contribute an increasingly significant portion of the disease burden in low and middle income countries, growing from one third to almost two thirds from 1990 to 2019 This mainly results from preventable risk factors It is important to approach aging with a positive outlook This entails guaranteeing sufficient medical care and proactively managing health issues in older adults Importantly since several diseases are often irreversible prevention is key Social and psychological factors due to their nebulous harm have struggled to gain attention over a long period We should aim to make the additional years gained during old age as healthful as those in other life stages The Malvern Hills Mark Bowden,2013-04-15 Examines the landscape of the Malvern Hills a ridge of ancient volcanic rocks along the western edge of the Severn Valley The survey ranges from the early prehistoric period to the present day including the two large Iron Age hillforts on the ridge
