Delaney, 2023-10-30 The severity of cuts and the unpredictability in state funding for higher education have garnered headlines across the nation since the turn of the present century In this context the authors in this new groundbreaking volume argue that too little attention is paid to the consequences of volatility in funding as most discussions focus on levels of funding Their research addresses an important blind spot in the academic literature since predictability matters to institutions students families and states In addition the risks of operating in an uncertain financial environment have led to behaviors that are not always in the best interests of states institutions faculty students or the public good Education Tax Credits Dana Bell, 2015-10-23 Education Tax Credits begins as a guide to preparing tax returns with education tax credits such as the American Opportunity Tax Credit This systematic analysis covers the steps required to process education credit claims from researching scholarships and calculating the maximum credit to coordinating with educational savings accounts and Pell grants This book also discusses 1098T reporting rules coordinating tax benefits and tax planning Illustrated aids assist in document preparation and student account tabulation with examples of records from two local institutions The AOTC worksheet included is instrumental in calculating the maximum credit Additional material is provided to assist in planning for other educational incentives including Section 529 plans Coverdell ESAs savings bonds and penalty exceptions for IRA withdrawals Kin Majorities Eleanor Knott, 2022-08-15 In Moldova the number of dual citizens has risen exponentially in the last decades Before annexation many saw Russia as granting citizenship to or passportizing large numbers in Crimea Both are regions with kin majorities local majorities claimed as co ethnic by external states offering citizenship among other benefits As functioning citizens of the states in which they reside kin majorities do not need to acquire citizenship from an external state Yet many do so in high numbers Kin Majorities explores why these communities engage with dual citizenship and how this intersects or not with identity Analyzing data collected from ordinary people in Crimea and Moldova in 2012 and 2013 just before Russia's annexation of Crimea Eleanor Knott provides a crucial window into Russian identification in a time of calm Perhaps surprisingly the discourse and practice of Russian citizenship was largely absent in Crimea before annexation Comparing the situation in Crimea with the strong presence of Romanian citizenship in Moldova Knott explores two rarely researched cases from the ground up shedding light on why Romanian citizenship was more prevalent and popular in Moldova than Russian citizenship in Crimea and to what extent identity helps explain the difference Kin Majorities offers a fresh and nuanced perspective on how citizenship interacts with cross border and local identities with crucial implications for the politics of geography nation and kin states as well as broader understandings of post Soviet politics The Best 381 Colleges, 2017 Edition Princeton Review, 2016-10-11 CELEBRATING
