and the International Financial Markets Esteban C. Buljevich, Yoon S. Park, 2007-08-27 Since the 1970s the practice of financing major private and public sector capital intensive projects has shifted to an ever greater reliance on private funding sources as opposed to direct financing through the issuance of corporate or government bonds In the 1990s these financing practices have undergone further changes with the increasing globalization of capital markets the growth of derivative instruments and the rapid increase in information technology that enhances cash management practices Today s project financing market is increasingly using sophisticated capital market bank and agency financing mechanisms as well as using derivative instruments for asset and liability management Thus financial market innovations are bringing the once separate
