Examinations In Singapore: Change And Continuity (1891-2007) Hong Kheng Chow, Christine Goh, Yap Kwang Tan, 2008-03-28 The first book to explore the development of Singapore s much talked about education and examination system this volume juxtaposes examinations with its immediate context of education and wider context of politics economy and society The study covers three broad historical periods Examinations in Singapore from 1891 to 1945 The Post War Years from 1946 to the 1970s and Charting Our Destiny from the 1980s to 2007 In the British period up to 1941 the local examinations were conducted by the vernacular schools and external examinations by the University of Cambridge Local Examinations Syndicate There was a lack of systematic effort to establish a uniform system of education and examinations During the Japanese Occupation examinations were conducted by the Japanese authorities and unexpectedly the Cambridge examinations continued in the Sime Road Camp In the post war period and particularly after Singapore was granted self government the establishment of a national education system was followed by the emergence of national examinations the Primary School Leaving Examinations and the Singapore Cambridge GCE N O A Levels for every school going child in Singapore Thereafter the nature of national examinations evolved with the changing needs of education and the nation At the turn of the century with the Ministry of Education's decision to take greater control of examinations the Singapore Examinations and Assessment Board was established to oversee new developments in examinations Unlike most literature on education where examinations are often mentioned as an outcome of educational goals and objectives this book focuses on examinations per se Examinations have gained a momentum of their own and it is interesting to note the development of examinations against the backdrop of the broader history of Singapore and of education in Singapore

Charting an Asian Trajectory for Literacy Education Su Li Chong, 2021-03-14 Weaving outwards from a centripetal force of biographical stances this book presents the collective perspectives of literacy researchers from Brunei China Hong Kong Malaysia Singapore the Philippines and Taiwan It represents the first all Asian initiative to showcase the region's post colonial multilingual and multicultural narratives of literacy education This book provides a much needed platform that initiates important conversations about literacy as a sociocultural practice in a region that is both challenged and shaped by sociocultural influence unique to Asia's historical and geopolitical trajectory Driven by the authors lived experiences of becoming literate as well as their empirical research work in later years each chapter brings decades of biographical narratives and collective empirical research findings to bear Within the book are negotiations about literacy across and within home and school contexts transactions of literature text and reader and considerations of the literacy policy practice nexus These trajectories while divergent in their issues come together as shared lived experience located in local contexts considered through global perspectives As Asia looks set to become the 21st century's new economic and labour force the need to understand the sociocultural milieu of this region cannot be understated This book on literacy education in Asia contributes to the larger narrative
