Justice for Atrocities Marco Longobardo, Juan-Pablo Perez-Leon-Acevedo, 2025-09-30 This book examines how national and international regional courts in Europe and Latin America address justice for serious human rights violations comparing approaches across these distinct regions. It analyzes judicial responses to gross violations of international human rights law and humanitarian law including genocide crimes against humanity and war crimes through the lens of regional institutional frameworks. The comparative analysis explores decades of significant case law addressing atrocities such as murder, torture, sexual offenses and enforced disappearances in both conflict and peacetime settings. The book contrasts Europe's experience with mass atrocities during the World Wars, Balkan conflicts of the 1990s and recent violations in the Caucasus and Ukraine against Latin America's widespread abuses under dictatorial regimes and internal armed conflicts in countries like Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Guatemala and Peru during the latter decades of the 20th century. This volume is essential reading for legal scholars, human rights practitioners, judges, prosecutors, defense attorneys and policymakers working in international criminal justice. It also serves as a valuable resource for graduate students and researchers in law, political science, international relations and peace and conflict studies who focus on accountability mechanisms for serious human rights violations across different regional contexts. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of The International Journal of Human Rights.

Valorization of Fruit Processing By-products Charis M. Galanakis, 2019-09-14 Valorization of Fruit Processing By-products covers the most recent advances in the field of fruit processing by-products following sustainability principles. The urgent need for sustainability within the food industry necessitates research to investigate the handling of by-products with another perspective, e.g. by adapting more profitable options. This book covers the latest developments in this particular direction. It promotes success stories and solutions that ensure the sustainable management of different fruit processing by-products, namely apple, apricot, avocado, Castanea sativa, citrus, date, mango, melon, passion fruit, pineapple, pink guava, pomegranate and watermelon, giving emphasis on the recovery of polyphenols, antioxidants and dietary fiber. Written by a team of experts in food processing and engineering, chemistry and food waste, this title is the definite guide for all the involved partners: engineers, professionals and producers active in the field. Explores fruit processing techniques, scale-up limitations and economical evaluation for each source of fruit processing by-product. Discusses the valorization of by-products derived from different fruits. Features the following fruits including apple, avocado, chestnut, citrus, date, mango, melon and watermelon, passion fruit, pineapple, pink guava and pomegranate.

this book will be a resource for researchers and other readers with an interest in historical linguistics linguistic anthropology language acquisition and linguistic typology Urban Tourism in the Global South Christian M. Rogerson, Jayne M.

Rogerson, 2021-07-13 This book examines and addresses the particular character of urban tourism occurring in the global South. It presents research essays on tourism in urban areas of South Africa, a country which is associated with big 5 nature tourism but where urban areas are also major tourism destinations. The book contextualizes urban tourism in South Africa as part of the other half of urban tourism, an overlooked but energetic scholarship which is emerging on urban places in the global South. The volume moves to present a collection of original material variously on national perspectives on urban tourism, following by a cluster of city level perspectives. The last three contributions turn to the role of tourism in small towns, the bottom rung in the urban settlement system. Issues of concern include gastronomic tourism, VFR travel, airports, landscapes, climate change, Airbnb and creative tourism. Finally, as COVID 19 is potentially a defining historical moment for urban tourism, the volume incorporates historical research perspectives in order to address the overwhelming present mindedness of mainstream urban tourism writings. The book highlights the challenges and opportunities for tourism development in the environment of the urban global South and is relevant to scholars of both tourism and urban studies as well as researchers in development studies.

Fees Must Fall Susan Booysen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt. FeesMustFall, the student revolt that began in October 2015, was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa. More broadly, it radically questioned the socio-political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business, the ruling elite and the liberation movement. The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left. Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles. The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top-down leadership system of university management and its double-speak of professing to act in workers and students' interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance. University managements, while on one level amenable to change, have also co-opted students into their ranks to create co-responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution. This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt. Student voices dissect colonialism, improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa, feminism, worker rights and meaningful education. In-depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism, its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt.

Socioeconomics, Philosophy, and Deneocoloniality Abdul Karim Bangura,2025-08-21 Existing paradigms such as decoloniality simplify the complex dynamics between former colonies and colonial powers Such frameworks overlook the role of local elites in maintaining and even enhancing oppressive systems They also imply that external forces are responsible for ongoing exploitation This book tackles this concept head on by introducing a new methodology called deneocoloniality Deoneocoloniality expands on decoloniality and neocolonialism It argues that while decoloniality focuses on the residual impacts of colonialism by external forces it neglects the internal dynamics where former colonized elites play a significant role in perpetuating oppression for personal gain The book presents socioeconomic and philosophical case studies to support deneocoloniality as a more comprehensive framework for understanding current realities in African countries Readers will gain a nuanced understanding of the intricate power structures affecting developing nations The book provides a structured methodology for analyzing problems emphasizing the importance of logical reasoning and collaborative efforts It offers practical solutions based on deep analysis moving beyond mere diagnosis to actionable recommendations This approach aims to equip readers with the tools needed to develop policies and strategies that address both external and internal sources of oppression
