Emerging Education Futures John W. Moravec, 2019-10-21 We task fewer industries to think about the future than we ask from education In societies where constant change is the norm schools today must prepare students to be successful in environments and contexts that may differ greatly from what we experience today But are we really thinking about the future With contributions from four continents this book reveals a snapshot of some of our best thinking for building new education futures Diverse experiences visions and ideas are shared to help spark new thinking among educators and policymakers provoke conversation and facilitate new ideas for meeting human development needs in a rapidly transforming world Edited by John W Moravec Chapters authored by Leona Ungerer Lisa B Bosman Julius C Keller Audrey Falk Silvia Cecilia Enr quez Sandra Beatriz Gargiulo Mar a Jimena Ponz Robert Thorn Erling N Dahl Einar N Str mmen John W Moravec Pekka Ihanainen Stefania Savva Gabriela Carre o Murillo Erik Mileti

Shaping Letters, Shaping Communities: Multilingualism and Linguistic Practice in the Late Antique Near East and Egypt , 2023-12-11 The volume explores linguistic practices and choices in the late antique Eastern Mediterranean It investigates how linguistic diversity and change influenced the social dimension of human interaction affected group dynamics the expression and negotiation of various communal identities such as professional groups of mosaic makers stonecutters or their supervisors in North Syria bilingual monastic communities in Palestine elusive producers of Coptic ritual texts in Egypt or Jewish communities in Dura Europos and Palmyra The key question is what do we learn about social groups and human individuals by studying their multilingualism and language practices reflected in epigraphic and other written sources

Beyond Genocide: Transitional Justice and Gacaca Courts in Rwanda Pietro Sullo, 2018-09-19 Combining both legal and empirical research this book explores the statutory aspects and practice of Gacaca Courts inkiko gacaca the centrepiece of Rwanda s post genocide transitional justice system assessing their contribution to truth justice and reconciliation The volume expands the knowledge regarding these courts assessing not only their performance in terms of formal justice and compliance with human rights standards but also their actual modus operandi. Scholars and practitioners have progressively challenged the idea that genocide should be addressed exclusively through westernised criminal law arguing that the uniqueness of each genocidal setting requires specific context sensitive solutions. Rwanda's experience with Gacaca Courts has emerged as a valuable opportunity for testing this approach offering never previously tried homegrown solutions to the violence experienced in 1994 and beyond. Due to the unprecedented number of individuals brought to trial the absence of lawyers the participative nature and the presence of lay judges directly elected by the Rwandan population Gacaca Courts have attracted the attention of researchers from different disciplines and triggered dichotomous reactions and appraisals. The tensions existing within the literature are addressed anchoring the assessment of Gacaca in a comprehensive legal analysis in conjunction with field research. Through the direct observation of Gacaca trials and by holding interviews and informal talks with survivors perpetrators ordinary Rwandans academics and the staff of NGOs a purely legalistic perspective is overcome offering instead an innovative bottom up approach to meta legal concepts such as justice fairness truth and reconciliation. Outlining their strengths and shortcomings this book highlights what aspects of Gacaca Courts can be useful in other post genocide contexts and provides crucial lessons learnt in the realm of transitional justice. The primary audience this book is aimed at consists of researchers working in the areas of international criminal law transitional justice genocide restorative justice African studies human rights and criminology while practitioners students and others with a professional interest in the topical matters that are addressed may also find the issues raised relevant to their practice or field of study.

Pietro Sullo teaches public international law and international diplomatic law at the Brussels School of International Studies of the University of Kent in Brussels. He is particularly interested in international human rights law transitional justice international criminal law constitutional transitions and refugee law. After earning his Ph.D. at the Sant'Anna School of Advanced Studies in Pisa Dr Sullo worked at the Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law in Heidelberg as a senior researcher and as a coordinator of the International Doctoral Research School on Retaliation Mediation and Punishment. He was also Director of the European Master's Programme in Human Rights and Democratization (E.M.A.) in Venice from 2013 to 2015 and lastly he has worked for international NGOs and as a legal consultant for the Libya Constitution Drafting Assembly on human rights and transitional justice.
